The opening hymn was "Take Time To Be Holy," followed by prayer by the President. The various Secretaries reported with Mrs. Chard giving some lovely thoughts on citizenship. Twenty-eight hospital calls, thirteen home calls and two books were reported for the month.

The thought for the day was "Prayer is as natural an expression of faith as breathing is of life." The offering was received and dedicated.

Mrs. Alex Bush, programme convenor, had as the theme "Stewardship in Families." The call to worship was followed by the opening hymn, "Worship the King." Mrs. Glenn Bush led in prayer. The Scripture lessons were Malachi 3: 8-12 and Matthew 25: 14-28. All joined in singing the hymn "The Wise May Bring Their Learning."

Everyone enjoyed the musical selection "Bless This House," given by Mrs. Phil Conley. The members answered the roll call with a mother from the Bible. Mrs. Geo. Heasman delighted all with her solo, "That Wonderful Mother of Mine," with her daughter, Grace, at the piano. Mrs.

The President, Dianne Prest, presided over the programme prepared by Sheila Clarke and Carol White and opened the meeting with the call to worship and the hymn "He Leadeth Me." All repeated in unison "The Mission Band Purpose" and the Lord's Prayer. The Scripture lesson, 113th Psalm, was read by Carol White and following this Dianne Prest read a story, "Norma and her little brother," telling how the children had lost both their parents and were taken to a Mission Hospital. The little boy died and Norma was then taken to a children's home. Gerald Stapley read a poem, "Creation."

The offering was gathered by Carol Stapley and dedicated with a prayer read by Lloyd Clancy.

The Secretary, Beverley Stapley, read the minutes and gave the roll call, which was answered by 27 children and 3 adults.

Lois Danford read an interesting story, "Special Job for Jane," telling about a little Mexican girl who was attending a new school.

A group of senior pupils took part in singing "Lord of the Lands," with Mrs. Reide playing their accompaniment.

The chapter from the study book, "The Little House," was presented by the leader, Mrs. M. Clancy. The two children, Landi and Jubalans lived in a village about 30 miles from Johannesburg. Jubalans lived in a large hut and the missionary held services there. Landi's home was small but they had a Bible of their own and the missionary had asked Landi's mother to be one of the Sunday School teachers. After the service the missionary gave each child a small picture which was greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Clancy divided the children into two groups according to age and all enjoyed a short recreation period with games and contests.

Weekly Editors Convened In Capital City

At the annual convention of the Ontario Weekly Newspapers Association 216 delegates in Ottawa last week heard their retiring president, Eugene A. Macdonald urge stronger editorial writing on the part of the editors. The manager pointed out Ontario weeklies were much improved in format and reproduction qualities as noted by competition adjudicators and were forging forward as most people still "had to see things in print to believe."

Besides hearing the Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker tell them the weekly newspaper was an institution in Canada, the delegates were received at Rideau Hall by General Vanier, the Governor General, and Madame Vanier.

While in Ottawa they were guests at functions sponsored by the Canadian Bankers Association, Imperial Oil Limited, Ottawa Gas, E. B. Eddy Co. Limited, Dominion Brewers Association, and the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission.

Presentations were made to prize winning newspapers as follows:

General Excellence, under 1,500 population: 1st, Winchester Press; 2nd, Gore Bay Recorder; 3rd, Dutton Advance.

General Excellence, under 4,500 population: 1st, Seaforth Huron Express; 2nd, Listowel Banner; 3rd, Stouffville Tribune.

General Excellence, over 4,500 population: 1st, Leamington Post and News; 2nd, Midland Free Press; 3rd, Renfrew Advance.

Best Editorial Page: 1st, Renfrew Advance; 2nd, The Palmerston Observer; 3rd, Port Elgin Times.

Greatest Improvement: 1st, Iroquois Post; 2nd, Carp Review; 3rd, Lucknow Sentinel.

A donation of $5.00 was made to the Hastings County Historical Society, Belleville, with Mrs. A. Akins being the delegate from Wellman's for the Society.

Roll call, "brand name and its slogan", was well responded to.

"Happy Birthday" was sung to Mrs. A. Akins and Mrs. J. Dunham, both celebrating birthdays in May.

Mrs. Omar Dracup gave a very interesting paper on the motto, "The family is still the central and most important part of society."

There was a sing-song of Stephen Foster's songs. Mrs. Jack Dunham gave a reading by Foster entitled "Story of Five Worlds" (Dear Friends and Gentle People). Mrs. Frederick Beckett sang "Beautiful Dreamer". Mrs. Keith Clancy gave a reading, one of the items from Charlie Weaver's or the items from Charlie Weaver's or the items from Charlie Weaver's.

MOTHER KNOWS BEST

A small girl whose father is a minister would often say she was Reverend Brown's daughter when someone asked her name. Her mother, thinking this might sound snobbish, told her not to make that sort of reply, but simply to say she was Dorothy Brown.

Later someone asked her if she was Reverend Brown's daughter. She replied, "Well, I thought I was, but Mother says not."

CAKE BAKING

Lady Luck has nothing to do with successful cake baking. Rather, it depends on choosing a tested recipe, measuring all the ingredients in the recipe accurately and combining them exactly as the method directs. Success in cake making also depends on using the right type and size of pan and baking the cake at the correct temperature for the right length of time. Common sense? Yes it is, but as the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, points out, deviation in only one of the points listed may be just the difference between a successful cake and one that is a failure.

For example, the following recipe for Chocolate Chiffon Cake calls for an ungreased pan. The reasons for this are to allow the batter to cling to the sides of the pan while climbing or rising during the baking and to allow the baked cake to "hang" in the pan when it is inverted. This results in a light, high cake. If there is a trace of grease in the pan the cake will not rise to maximum height and may fall out of the pan when inverted resulting in a heavy, small cake.

This recipe for Chocolate Chiffon Cake, is one of the favorites of the Home Economists at the Consumer Section where it was tested. It is a delicious cake and a light one, which puts it in a spring or summer time dessert class. As it takes well to freezing it can be made now while eggs are still reasonably priced.

Chocolate

Chiffon Cake

1 cup cocoa
1 cup boiling water
1 1/2 cups sifted pastry flour
1 1/2 cups sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder

7 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup salad oil
7 egg yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine cocoa and boiling water, then chill. Mix and sift flour, the 1 1/2 cups sugar, baking powder and salt. Make a meringue of the egg whites, cream of tartar and the remaining sugar. Make a well in the dry 1 teaspoon salt. Ingredients and add, in order, the oil, egg yolks, cocoa mixture and vanilla. Beat until smooth. Add to meringue and fold in gently until thoroughly combined. Do not stir. Pour into an ungreased 10" tube pan and bake in a moderately slow oven (325 degs. F.) until surface springs back when pressed lightly, 70 to 75 minutes. Immediately turn pan upside down and leave until cake is cold.

NOTE — For a darker cake, add 1/2 cup more cocoa and 1/2 cup more sugar.

THE LAWN CUTTER

The young lad came to the front door. "Could I mow the lawn for you, Ma'am, for the Summer months?"

He was a bright-looking lad, about 14, in blue denim trousers and a bleached-out work shirt.

The lady of the house had three sons of her own, but something about the young lad was appealing.

"Where do you live, boy?" she said. Her purpose, which he was quick to realize, was to make an estimate of how badly he needed the lawn-mowing job.

"In Winnipeg," he said. "That's nice," she said, somewhat baffled; but because she was a very persistent lady she probed again. "Your father — what does he work at? I mean —"

"Lady," the boy said, "I just want to cut your lawn."

"I was just trying to figure what to pay you," she sighed. "You know — depending on how much you need the money."

The young lad took a look at the lawn. "It's worth a dollar — I wouldn't take no more. A dollar a week to mow and trim it . . . it's a small lawn. It's what it's worth," he emphasized.

The boy's grammar might have been improved, but his idea was sound enough. He wanted to be paid what the job was worth, not a penny more nor a penny less. It was a business bargain, not a charity case.

He didn't get the job, though. The lady, somewhat huffed, said, "Well, if you don't need the money, my own boy can cut the lawn. I was just — I was ready to be kind."

The boy grinned, shrugged. I just wanted the job."

That's the way the story went. The lady told her husband about it that evening, and she was still a bit put out. The boy had made her feel a bit nosy. Her husband told it to me. He said he thought it might have made good material for the column, especially if it had turned out that the boy was from a poor family in dire need of money. However, he had done a bit of checking, and the boy didn't need the money at all — they lived only a few houses down the street and his Dad was a substantial construction contractor with plenty of dough. So, my acquaintance said, it wasn't much of a story.

As you can see, I thought it was a darn good story, and it makes a point that needs to be made these days. I don't ask my barber how much money he has before I decide what to pay him. He tells me what his price is and I'm free to pay it or go shaggy. I like it that way; and I hope there are a lot of teenagers like the lawn cutter, no matter where they live or what their fathers do, who feel the same.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Weed of the Week

GOAT'S-BEARD'S
GOOD NAME IS GONE

Goat's-beard was classed as a delicacy in the England of Elizabeth the First. The roots, boiled and buttered, were much preferred to parsnips or carrots. These roots were dug as needed or stored in sand. In the winter months they provided the poor man with the taste, if not the meat, of oysters — hence the description of the weed as "oyster plant."

These plants also had a spiritual virtue: they were dried over the fires which burned on St. John's Eve and hung in the house and barn to protect man and beast from evil. These edible, spiritual and medicinal properties were probably attributed more to the purple or field goat's-beard than to the yellow flowered species which is more common in Ontario.

Goat's-beard grows two to five feet high and has narrow, grass-like leaves, points out the Field Crops Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture. When broken, a milky sap runs out. The flowers are somewhat like small sunflowers, and all close by noon. Hence, another name is "Johnny-go-to-bed-at-noon." Seeds are spread by a parachute-like appendage in the same manner as the seeds of dandelions.

Nowadays, with fresh and frozen vegetables available the year round, few people eat goat's-beard roots. Even fewer use it as a charm against evil. Sixteen ounces 2,4-D acid in at least twenty gallons water, applied early, when the plants look like oversized grass leaves, and before the blossom stems start to form, will kill this untidy inhabitant of roadsides and uncultivated areas.

REMEMBER CHORE-SAVERS WHEN REMODELLING BARN

Planning to remodel your stable this summer?

If so, make allowance for labour saving devices like a gutter cleaner. Even though you mightn't want to install a cleaner now, you should consider it in your planning. In this way, you can add it at some future date without expensive alterations.

Bob Milne, extension engineer with the Ontario Department of Agriculture, says "the cost of installing a gutter cleaner will be less in a face-out stable arrangement than in a face-in arrangement. It's also cheaper to install a cleaner with a single loop path of travel than one which services more than two rows of animals. There is also less maintenance with this arrangement."

Remember that gutter cleaners need a 16-inch or 18-inch wide gutter, and they should have 12 or 14 inches of depth on the cowstand side. If the cleaner is covered while in operation, make sure there is a 16-inch clearance between the cleaner and the cover.

"If you aren't going to install a gutter cleaner when the stable is being changed, the gutter should be made continuous through cross alleys and across the end of the stable; in this way no concrete removal or reconstruction is necessary in the future. Steel plates can be laid over these covered-in sections," says the engineer.

He adds that where possible, don't pass the cleaner through pens — pass it outside of them. In this way, more of the cleaner is left open. It not only reduces the risk of plugging but you won't have to remove the plates before cleaning out pens.

Furrow and Fallow By Fairbairn

Two recent developments in Ontario and Quebec will have far-reaching effects on all farmers in those two provinces — and perhaps in the rest of Canada — who raise livestock, especially dairy cattle. First legislation has been introduced in the Quebec legislature to legalize the manufacture and sale of margarine in that province and second, in Ontario we understand steps have been taken to amend the Pharmacy Act to enable feed dealers to sell certain antibiotics and livestock medicaments that previously have only been available (legally) from drug stores and veterinarians.

Dealing with the latter first — there has been quite a little battle raging behind the scenes, and now and again in public, about the high cost of some of these drugs or remedies or whatever classification in which they belong. Feed dealers have claimed (some of them have done it) they could sell the same product much below prices charged by a druggist or a feed dealer, this could still happen.

There has been no official announcement about these changes nor have we been able to get any confirmation, but any changes might not receive too much publicity because when the feed dealers association tried to do something about the situation a while back, there was quite a bit of opposition from druggists and vets. However, if it does happen it could mean savings of hundreds of dollars annually to some individual farmers and perhaps hundreds of thousands in over-all production costs.

If changes are made, farmers can thank the Ontario Federation of Agriculture who made the most recent approaches to the provincial government.

The recently introduced margarine legislation in Quebec is similar in many ways to that currently in force in Ontario. It will permit the manufacture and sale of the butter substitute but not coloured. Technically, there is a little colour allowed in Ontario and we understand the Quebec legislation would permit the same but it certainly is not butter colour. In Quebec, they are going farther than Ontario by prohibiting the presence, even of dairy substance materials in factories manufacturing dairy products — at least, that is our interpretation at the moment. There has been some suspicion that some processors might be slipping a bit of vegetable oil into their dairy foods and this is designed to prevent that happening. While some dairy farmers may fear this Quebec legislation is opening the door to substitutes, its effect should be, and apparently is, designed to protect the milk producer.

Hastings Swine Club

The second meeting of Hastings Swine Club was held on May 4th in the Agricultural Office Board Rooms at Stirling.

Vice-President Owen Ketcheson opened the meeting with the members repeating the 4-H Club Pledge. The roll call was conducted by the Secretary, Agnes McKeown. The next meeting was planned for July 6th. It was planned that at this meeting the club would tour the Hay Bay Pigery and also judge a class of swine. The members were reminded of the judging competition to be held at the Judging on May 25th.

Mr. Gibson Patterson, Assistant Agricultural Representative, introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Mr. Orville Muscle. Mr. Muscle from the Foxboro Co-Op, spoke on the main topic for the evening, "Swine Feeding." Mr. Muscle explained the problems of raising swine from piglets to market pigs. This included the type to feed and also the care of pigs. After an interesting talk each member wrote a short quiz on what was explained in Mr. Muscle's talk. The meeting was adjourned after the papers were corrected.

Septic Tank Mistakes Costly

"Some of the ideas about septic tanks cost farm families considerable money each year," says Prof. Ross Irwin of the Department of Engineering Science, O.A.C.

For instance, he knocks down the theory that the liquid coming from a septic tank is pure. He says the effluent from a septic tank "will be considerably more contaminated" than the material going in. For that reason, never discharge the runoff from a septic tank into a stream, ditch, or underground water table.

The best place for a septic tank discharge is into the top layers of soil where the bacteria will break it down and render it harmless. That's why tile lines of the septic bed should be laid fairly shallow — about 2 feet deep. It's much better than using seepage pits for absorption."

The engineer also cautions against running wash water around the septic tank. The soap tends to clog the seepage lines. Also he suggests you run wash water (especially water with detergent in it) into a special drainage area — not the septic tank.

Check your septic tank at least once a year. Don't wait until it quits working to check it — it might be winter when it quits working. The level of sludge-deposits in the bottom of the tank should be measured. As soon as the tank is 1-3 full of sludge have it cleaned. A broom stick can be used to make the test.

One last point: It's better to clean your tank in the spring than fall. Spring cleaning gives the tank time to get into full operation before winter.

son. If the amount of radiation is large, however, this reluctance to accept the graft is overcome and the graft will take and grow."

"Such transplants have been effective in dogs and it is hoped that soon it will be possible to transplant marrow from one human to another."

If this should be the case, this would be a most valuable tool in our approach to the leukemias."

As estimated three-quarters of a million people depend upon Canada's electrical industry for their family's income.

Census Takers
Carry Credentials

When the census taker calls on you this June, he or she will carry credentials in the form of a small card issued by the Dominion Statistician, according to K. R. Holmes, census commissioner.

The card states that he has been appointed by the Minister of Trade and Commerce for the Census of 1961, and that he is authorized by law to collect the required facts. This card will have the census taker's own signature and will be countersigned by the census commissioner.

The census taker will also carry an official portfolio indicating a district number, enumeration area number, and the census taker's name and telephone number. In the portfolio will be forms which the census taker will complete by asking questions.

Census takers are forbidden to conduct any private business while making their calls. They and all other employees of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics are under oath not to reveal a single item about any individual, under penalty of fine, imprisonment or both. On arrival in Ottawa, the answers given are transferred to anonymous marks on magnetic tape. The census, in short, is for statistical purposes only.

THE BIBLE TODAY

Substantial advances have been made in the last 100 years in Biblical studies. New documents have been discovered. The uncovering of ancient cities in the Bible lands has added to the knowledge of both the language and living customs. As a result, it was decided before World War II to undertake a new translation of the Scriptures into English. The work was interrupted by the war, but in 1946 a new committee of all the churches was set up to undertake the preparation of a completely new English version in the language of today.

The preliminary conference on this subject held in 1946 was attended by delegates from the Church of England, the Church of Scotland, The Methodist, Baptist and Congregational Churches. The conference unanimously recommended that a new translation as distinct from a revision of the King James, or Authorized Version should be undertaken. On January 16th, 1947, official representatives from those and other Churches met together with representatives of the University Presses of Oxford and Cambridge to plan the projected translation. The representative of the British and Foreign Bible Society and the National Bible Society of Scotland also joined the Committee. This joint Committee was set up on July 10th, 1947, and has since met twice a year in the Jerusalem Chamber (where the revisers of 1880 used to meet).

The first results of the work of this committee was available when the New English translation of the New Testament was released to the public on March 14th, 1961.

Deputation on Drainage Problem In Frankford Rd. Area Heard

Appointment of Plumbing Inspector Is Considered — Fees Are Set For Lateral

The solution of a drainage problem affecting residents on the east side of Frankford Road was discussed at some length at the regular meeting of Council on Monday night.

Messrs. Bruce Glendinning and Clive White appeared before Council to discuss the matter. According to the former the lack of proper drainage by the ditch leading from the culvert across Front St. West at Annis St. was responsible for an ever-growing swamp area at the rear of his property. He was prepared to do whatever was necessary to correct the condition but wanted some direction as what was best to do. Mr. White stated the lack of proper drainage caused the water to back up into his basement resulting in considerable damage.

Mr. Wannamaker, whose property is immediately south of the Glendinning property, joined the delegation later and suggested the flooding conditions were caused by the increased flow of water directed into the ditch by the Dept. of Highways.

Reeve Bateman stated he and members of Council had viewed the area in question and it was decided to have an engineer from the Dept. of Highways inspect the area as soon as possible.

Police Report

Police Chief D. Ketcheson presented his monthly report and it was accepted on motion of Council.

He suggested that Council should pass a bylaw controlling the sale and use of fireworks as a safety precaution; also one forbidding the discharge of firearms within the Village limits. The matter of an increase in the mileage for the police car and his clothing allowance were also discussed. No action was taken on the former, while the latter request was granted.

A communication was tabled from the United Counties of Stormont, Glengary and Dundas re abolition of County Councils but no action was taken.

To Co-operate On Foam Bank

A letter from the Hastings and Prince Edward Mutual Aid Association sought the co-operation of the Village in establishing a foam bank for fighting gas and oil fires in various municipalities. Each municipality would be required to purchase foam guns and indicators and a supply of foam for local use. It would also be required to contribute a similar quantity of foam to the central bank. After discussion Council instructed the Clerk to advise the Mutual Aid Association that Stirling would co-operate in the plan providing other municipalities did likewise.

Plumbing Legislation

A letter was tabled from the Ontario Water Resources Commission with respect to plumbing legislation. Under the new legislation a municipality is required to pass a bylaw appointing an inspector of plumbing and setting a fee for inspection of installations, repairs, alterations, permit of approval, etc.

The appointment of such an inspector was discussed at some length and left in abeyance to permit discussion with an adjacent municipality in the hope that an arrangement might be reached whereby the appointee would do the inspections in both municipalities.

To Introduce Necessary Bylaw

Notice of motion was given of the introduction of a bylaw at the next meeting of Council to fix fees for inspections, for requiring production of plans of plumbing to be constructed, repaired, renewed or altered; issuance of permits and requiring that without such permit no such plumbing may be constructed, repaired, renewed or altered.

Fees Set For Lateral

On motion no building permit will be issued for construction of a new residence unless the owner connects with the sewerage system, providing such service is available.

A fee of $75.00 (where there is a gravel roadway) and $100 (where the roadway is paved) was set for the installation of a lateral from the

Hermiston Block Sold To H. C. Bird

A real estate deal of interest, which had been pending for some time, was completed on Friday last when H. C. Bird, owner of the local I.G.A. store, purchased the adjoining Hermiston Block from Mrs. R. Hermiston, Dorchester, Ont.

With the added space, Mr. Bird plans making his store into a modern supermarket, with two modern apartments overhead.

The deal was completed by A. V. Greenley, local representative of Collette & Whitley, realtors.

trunk sewer to the property line where lot is not already serviced.

Notice of motion was given of the introduction of a bylaw to cover the above fees.

The chairman of the Cemetery Committee reported that the vault at the local cemetery needed repairing or rebuilding. The matter was left in the hands of the committee to investigate and report.

Bylaws Given

Council went into committee of the whole on bylaws and Bylaw No. 612 setting a penalty of 1 percent per month on overdue taxes due the first day of default and interest of 1 percent per month after the first month of the following year; also Bylaw No. 613 prohibiting the discharging of firearms or air guns, spring guns, or guns of any type, within the limits of the municipality, under penalty of a $25.00 fine, were given their first and second readings.

H. & P.E. Belleville W.A. Holds Final Presbytery Meeting

At the final meeting of the Hastings and Prince Edward Branch of the Belleville Presbytery W.A. held in St. Andrew's United Church in Marmora, May 24th, the 14 Past Presidents of the Association, nine of whom were present, were called to the front of the assembly and presented with corsages. Mrs. J. A. Lott, president when the association was first formed in 1933, led the procession, and was followed by Mrs. J. McKeown, Miss A. Brickman, Mrs. H. Elliott, Mrs. G. E. Dobbs, Mrs. M. R. Davidson, Mrs. A. N. Pyear, Mrs. J. E. Marsh and Mrs. F. Davidson, the present president. Mrs. C. Macklin, Mrs. F. Lent, Mrs. E. Ward, Mrs. J. M. Wood and Mrs. R. C. Jackson were unable to be present.

Following the ceremony an historical sketch of the Hastings and Prince Edward W.A. of the Belleville Presbytery was presented by Mrs. Pyear.

Mrs. J. L. Halpenny, a past president of Dominion Council W.A. was guest speaker at the afternoon session of this meeting. Her topic was the United Church Women, the new organization which is to come into being January 1st, 1962.

She said that the commission gave long careful and prayerful study of the W.A., the W.M.S. and the related boards of the church, their findings being as follows: "Because of duplication of effort, some competition, the changing pattern of church life in new suburbs, in downtown city churches, the difficulties of obtaining leadership in rural areas, and in mid-week groups in city churches," the commission decided to recommend that all the women be united to form one organization and that the manual of the United Church of Canada be rewritten to provide for the necessary changes in the boards of the church.

She concluded by stating that there are approximately 400,000 women in the United Church who belong to no organization, and challenged the women to enlist all the women of the church.

The meeting opened in the morning with the theme hymn and prayer, followed by devotions conducted by Mrs. Wellman, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Seymour, of Springbrook W.A. Based on the theme, "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life," it was pointed out that the materialistic civilization has lost sight of the necessity of things of the spirit.

Mrs. F. Davidson, president, told of the bursary fund set up by the Conference W.A. to help students, men or women, who are entering training for full time service in the church.

It was decided to vote $100 from Presbytery W.A. funds for this worthwhile cause.

At the last executive meeting, $100 had been voted to the Lay Foundation of Presbytery to help a student minister. Also Mrs. J. E. Marsh and Mrs. A. N. Pyear had been appointed then, to the provisional committee of Presbytery. Since Belleville Presbytery W.A. has two branches, it was voted to unite the Hastings and Prince Edward W.A. and the Lennox and Addington W.A. at the end of this year, so that the new Belleville Presbytery of United Church Women could be formed in 1962. The inaugural meeting of this organization will be held in Bridge St. United Church, Belleville, on January 10th, 1962.

Greetings

Mrs. G. J. Melkiejohn, president of Marmora W.A., welcomed the ladies to the church and the president of Mount Pleasant replied. Greetings were brought to the assembly by Mrs. George Carlisle, president of Belleville Presbytery W.M.S., Mrs. G. E. Dobbs, president of Bay of Quinte Conference W.A., Mrs. Hewitt of Marmora Anglican Church, Mrs. R. Wells of the Free Methodist Church, Mrs. M. McCoy of the Pentecostal Church, Rev. M. McLeod, minister of St. Andrew's United Church and the Rev. H. M. Davis, president of the Belleville Presbytery.

The ladies enjoyed the singing of a duet by John and Ed Svoboda of Stirling accompanied by Mrs. H. West.

Mrs. Kerr on behalf of Tabernacle W.A. presented a corsage to Mrs. F. Davidson.

Reports

Mrs. Davidson gave a brief report of the work she had done and the meetings she had attended. Mrs. R. E. Smithrin, vice-president, gave an excellent account of the highlights of the Dominion Council W.A. meetings in Toronto the previous week which she and Mrs. Davidson had attended as delegates. The reports of the standing committees showed increased interest in the work of each department. Mrs. Smithrin, devotional convener, suggested using the book, "The Art of Building Worship Services," by Thomas Bruce McCormand. Mrs. T. W. Spear, parsonage convener, commended one group who made annual donations to special parsonage fund so that money is available for purchase of items of greater expense.

Mrs. V. A. McMurray asked all W.A.'s to keep accurate account of visits made during the year.

Mrs. F. Carter, for Christian Citizenship, reported 35 bales had been packed for overseas relief.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Sherry's report on Christian Education, she suggested that the local W.A.'s promote the establishing of a Christian Education committee in the churches where none is yet in existence, in preparation for the new setup in this

Mrs. P. MacMullen
Elected President
W. Hastings W.I.

The 60th annual convention of West Hastings District Women's Institute was held at White's United Church at Bayside on May 31st, with the Bay of Quinte Branch as the hostess group.

The registration was in charge of Mrs. John Reid and Mrs. J. Palmer and representatives were in attendance from all seven branches in the district.

The President, Mrs. E. B. Phillips presided over the meeting and the morning session opened with the Institute Ode and Mary Stewart's Collect in unison. She graciously welcomed all the ladies in attendance and introduced the guests; Miss Grace Hamilton, R.N., the only nurse on the staff of Home Economics Department of Agriculture; Mrs. Sherman Foster, Federated Board member; Miss Julia Lane, Home Economist and Mrs. Roscoe Robson, chairman of the Trent Valley Area.

Mrs. Harry Coulter reported on last year's annual and gave a financial statement showing a balance of over $60.00. Mrs. Roy Bush presented the auditors report.

Mrs. W. Yateman, president of White's W.A., welcomed the guests and Mrs. Harold Detlor replied.

Closing Address

The president in her closing address said that the district workshop based on "Eat to Live" last October had given valuable information on the subject of food. Mrs. Phillips voiced thanks to those attending the 60th anniversary banquet and closed with a poem, "My Garden."

Mrs. Foster ratified the district directors as follows: Bay of Quinte, Mrs. Donald Sandercock; Chatterton (alternate), Mrs. Gerald Irvine; Pine Grove, Mrs. William Slater; River Valley, Mrs. Geo. Heasman; Stirling, Mrs. Mabel Williams; Uniondale, Mrs. Frank Loney; Wallbridge, Mrs. A. Carleton.

The roll call of branches was interesting as follows:

Buy of Quinte — Mrs. Alva Dunn one program was based on the spread of the Institute throughout the world. Chatterton — Mrs. Lorne Reid — their assistance to others; Pine Grove — Mrs. Charles Ross — outlined hospitality extension course; River Valley — Mrs. Kenneth Myers — told of the 50th anniversary held in May, 1960; Stirling — Mrs. Blanche Reid — mentioned the large bales of clothing sent to the Scott Mission and their boat trip through the Thousand Islands; Uniondale — Mrs. Edson Sine — gave a resume of Girls' Club work and stated one of their girls received provincial honours; Wallbridge — Mrs. Harold Phillips — outlined the messages given on Africa, on retarded children and on Holland.

Reports Given

Mrs. Grace Bartindale reported papers prepared on such subjects as "All from a Kernel of Corn," "The Manufacture and Ways to Use Cheddar Cheese," "The Progress of Agriculture from Ancient Days," "Canada's Natural Resources, Fishing, Mining and Milk Industries."

An address was given by Dr. Russell Scott, telling of the Plowing Match in October.

Citizenship-Education

Mrs. Gerald Irvine said that roll calls included "How to save time for leisure; what are you thankful for; and the duty of a good citizen."

Historical Research

And Current Events

Mrs. W. C. West reported that three branches have a representative on the Hastings County Historical Society and one branch donated towards the museum.

Home Economics

And Health

Mrs. Alton Sine outlined the roll calls which included "What I eat for beauty and good temper, an old fashioned health remedy, and a first-aid hint." Six branches participated in the District Workshop "Eat to Live" held at Wallbridge last October.

Resolutions

Mrs. Donald Sandercock suggested that each branch devote some time yearly to this phase of the work and thus acquaint themselves with resolutions and their place in Institute work.

Public Relations

Mrs. Percy MacMullen said all branches had publicized meetings in one or more newspapers. The branches took part in a "Hospitality course," "treasures in your attic" and "window treatment." These conveners compiled the radio and TV evaluation forms. Two branches canvassed for the blind and one for the Salvation Army Christmas Cheer; the total for both was over $116. The members of two branches donated cash in lieu of gift exchanges at Christmas and was used to bring cheer to others.

One branch visited Hastings County Home and another joined their Auxiliary. Three public relations officers attended the Guelph Conference in 1960 and gave the highlights at their branch meeting. The tabulated reports showed: charitable, $107; educational, $115; health, $57; miscellaneous, $479; FWIO and FWIC projects, $104.10, making a total of $1,046.10 for West Hastings. Donations of food and clothing were estimated at $890.

Mrs. MacMullen visited 3 branches and gave public relations messages: two on radio broadcasts and a message at the Hastings County Federation of Agriculture banquet. She reported all the district activities which included last year's district annual. The district workshop, "Eat to Live," two executive meetings and the 60th anniversary banquet.

We, the officers and members of Stirling W.I., extend our congratulations to the newly-elected District President, Mrs. P. D. MacMullen.

In Memoriam

CARTER In memory of our son, Ray, who left us one year ago, June 6th.

Along the road to yesterday
That leads us straight to you,
And memories of the happy days
Together we once knew.

And always in our memory,
We seem to have a way
Of wandering back to meet you there,
On the road to yesterday.

— Ever remembered by Dad, Mom and sister Audrey. 16-1p

STAPLEY — In memory of a dear son and brother, Private Ralph J. Stapley, of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengary Highlanders, who was critically wounded on D Day and died in June 7th, 1944.

Within our hearts we'll always keep
A special place for you
And try to do our best to live
As you would want us to.

Sometimes 'tis hard to understand
Why some things have to be;
But in His wisdom God has planned
Beyond our power to see.

— Mrs. Russell Stapley and family. 16-1p

STRAWBERRIES

There's no question about the best strawberries we ever ate. They were the dew-fresh berries plucked from our father's strawberry patch when the morning was at seven and we were very young. But there are many questions about store bought fresh strawberries that consumers ask the home economists of Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, to answer for them. Here are some samples along with the answers.

Question: — What do you look for when you buy fresh strawberries at the store?

Answer — First of all, never look for a bargain. The strawberry season is so short that the crop is here today and gone tomorrow. Therefore, prices fluctuate very little while local berries last. But, do look for bright, glossy, solid berries with bright green caps. Flavour depends on ripeness so avoid berries that have white spots. Bruised and damp berries are not a good buy.

Question — How many berries should you buy at one time?

Answer — It is best to buy only enough berries that can be used at one time. However, berries will keep in the refrigerator 2 or 3 days. Remove them from the box and place on a plate or tray so that air can circulate around them.

Question — Should strawberries be washed and hulled before storing in the refrigerator?

Answer — Never. Do not wash or hull the berries until ready to use. At that time, wash quickly in cold water, lifting out with fingers so that dirt and sand fall to bottom of basin. Remove caps after berries are clean and dry.

Question — Have strawberries any significant food value?

Answer — They are excellent sources of Ascorbic Acid or Vitamin C. If a man ate a handful direct from his strawberry patch they would supply him with practically a day's need of Vitamin C. A bowl of fresh strawberries, therefore, is a wonderful way to start a day. Try them for breakfast.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

BAD NEWS

The only persons pleased to hear that profits in manufacturing in 1960 dropped to the lowest point in 13 years will be those who make political capital by talking about the huge profits of industry.

1960 saw Canada hit the depth of the recession. It appears that we are coming out of it now and that things are going to pick up. But it becomes more and more obvious that when business is good, times are good and everybody benefits. When business is bad, everybody suffers.

In 1960, the average profit on the sales dollar in the manufacturing industry amounted to 4.4 cents. Of this amount 2.5 cents went to shareholders and 1.9 cents was retained in the business.

In other words, governments took more in taxes from each dollar of sales than the shareholders did. To be precise, federal and provincial taxes on corporation income were 3.9 cents on each dollar of sales. This is one of the stiffest levies in the world, and it certainly doesn't encourage Canadians to invest in the manufacturing business — the main source of employment.

This is not the whole story, of course. If you contemplate going into the manufacturing business, you may hope for a profit of 4.4 cents on the dollar — but you are by no means sure of getting it. Out of 1000 companies surveyed, 201 or about one in every five lost money in 1960. We operate in a profit-and-loss economy. If you profit, the government takes a large portion of it; if you lose, you lose, and there are no letters of sympathy from the revenue department. They are sorry to see you lose money, of course, because that means you pay no taxes and you create no new jobs.

Those who are forever complaining about the fabulous profits of manufacturers are simply attempting to deceive the people, or they are themselves deceived. Profits are low, far too low. They are not high enough to encourage the risk of capital... and those who will risk capital in the hope of a profit are the ones who create the jobs we want and the goods we need.

Somehow, manufacturers must find a way to increase the incentive to invest. Costs must be cut, efficiency increased. Governments must ease the tax rate, taking less of the sales dollar, so that volume can increase and profits become large enough to encourage investment capital. If this does not happen, who will create the jobs? Governments can't do it. Farmers can't do it. Primary industry cannot absorb all of the growing labour force.

Isn't it time we stopped taxing the life out of corporations just because it sounds popular?

her report of the recent board meeting, stating that Ontario has a membership of 38,448, 1,456 branches, and eight new branches have been organized this past year. Five hundred and sixty branches contributed $4,000 for the UNESCO project for Jamaica.

Mrs. Foster also urged all the branches to continue collecting their "Pennies for Friendship" and that all branches assist with the Foundation Fund. She presented the president and secretary with the new handbooks and gave a resume regarding their distribution.

A special workshop is planned at area level regarding citizenship; books relating to Judge Emily Murphy, Nellie McClung, Nina Moore Jamieson and others will be placed in the Adelaide Hoodless home.

Members of the Bay of Quinte W.I. served an attractive salad plate luncheon.

Displays

The displays included a large array of gift articles made from foam rubber, newspapers, gifts, Institute magazines from Abbotts Leigh W.I. in England, 60th anniversary pictures, cafe curtains and drapes, made in the "Window Treatment Course," and a District scrap book.

Afternoon Session

The afternoon session began with a commentary and explanation of fabrics, Arnel, cotton rayon and fibre glass materials. Five ladies of River Valley branch, Mrs. Geo. Heasman, Mrs. Percy MacMullen, Mrs. Roy Bush, Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mrs. Sheldon McIntosh each spoke briefly. The various curtains made by the River Valley group were displayed. Mrs. George Burkitt showed the audience the work accomplished by Uniondale Branch.

Mrs. Grace Hamilton, R.N., gave a resume of the new booklet dealing with the Home Economics Service programme of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Mrs. Roscoe Robson, chairman of the Trent Valley area, brought greetings from that group.

Pennies For Friendship

Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave a review of the "Pennies for Friendship." A brief ceremony followed when seven ladies representing the branches placed their containers in a decorated basket and stated their amount. The total was approximately $36.00. The district treasurer will forward this money to the FWIO. Mrs. MacMullen closed with a poem.

Uniondale held the honour of having the most pennies, over $11.00 and River Valley was second with $8.75.

Miss Julia Lane, Home Economist, gave a concise picture of Girls' Club work in the County of Hastings. There were 186 girls who completed the course in 1960. "The Club Girl Stands on Guard" and 13 girls received county honours. Helen Burkitt, Uniondale, received Provincial Honours for 12 units. Provincial Honours also went to Elsie Martin, Chapman, and Grace Heasman, who took the last course with Uniondale Branch.

The project this autumn is "Cotton Accessories for the Club Girl's Bedroom." The new session training school will be based on "143 pounds of meat."

Mrs. S. Foster took charge of the election of officers and Mrs. Mabel Williams read the nominations.

Mrs. MacMullen spoke briefly and asked for the co-operation of all the members and thus carry on the work of this wonderful organization.

District Workshop

A district workshop, based on W.L. procedures will be held at River Valley. The branches will discuss the "Save the Children Fund" at their own meetings.

Mrs. Roy Bush thanked the group for assistance to the Hastings County Museum as 22 branches have made donations.

Miss Julia Lane outlined rulings for scholarships and awards.

The 1962 district annual will convene at Chatterton. Mrs. Hudson Ketcheson gave the courtesy report. Mrs. Morley Sine voiced special thanks to the retiring president, Mrs. E. B. Phillips for her two years of efficient leadership.

Furrow and Fallow By Fairbairn

An arbitration board recently announced that prices for Ontario tomatoes for processing this year will be the same as 1960. Some growers may consider this good news and some may not but what should eventually turn out to be good news to all fruit and vegetable growers and processors is the first step toward establishing an Export Council. A top level meeting in Ottawa recently set up a steering committee which is examining the feasibility of such a council. Its objective would be to increase sales of processed fruits and vegetables overseas.

Although the steering committee includes members of the Departments of Trade and Commerce and Agriculture, the Export Council when organized is expected to be an industry one only. Representatives of producers, processors, can and carton manufacturers and others in the business of growing and selling fruits and vegetables will help themselves by trying to extend Canada's export markets.

Trade missions to the UK and Europe, including the one led by Ontario's Agriculture Minister Goodfellow last fall, all report available markets for canned goods from Canada — if the price is right! The big stumbling block is that prices cannot be based on domestic costs of production and shipping charges. Some members of the industry think they can work out a method for making export prices competitive but growers, processors, other manufacturers and freight conferences will have to co-operate.

We are not sure whether this type of two price structure will work or not but more efficient use of land and plants should lower cost of production per unit so it would appear worth a try. Organizers of the Export Council had their hopes damped somewhat just as they were starting when the eastbound conference freight

BULL THISTLE

"The Jesse James of the Weed World."

Like the James Boys, Bull or pasture thistles leave a trail of sorrow and desolation behind them. Whether you call it bull, pasture or spear thistle, this weed, and its close relatives the scotch and nodding thistles, cause more losses to Ontario farmers than the James Boys did to the banks and railroads.

Little children do not help matters any when they puff at the seed heads to find out the time. Today, just as a hundred years ago they sing:

"Marian, Marian, what's the time of day?

One o'clock (puff), two o'clock (puff).

It's time we were away," and there go hundreds of seeds to set up another infestation in some farmer's field.

2,4-D will kill these bandits if growing in waste places or an old grass pasture. When it hides among innocent bystanders in a clover field, 2,4-D butyric spray or a shovel is called for. This unwanted outlaw is described in "Weeds of Ontario" and control measures in the "Guide to Chemical Weed Control." Both of these publications may be obtained from any Ontario Department of Agriculture Office.

On Tuesday evening last five members of Stirling Women's Institute attended a meeting of the Historical Society for the County at Belleville in the new County Museum on Pinnacle Street. There was an attendance of over seventy five.

Mrs. R. Williams, being the newly-elected convenor to represent Stirling W.I., attended this meeting, along with Mrs. F. Smith, Mrs. B. Reid, Mrs. W. West and Mrs. Luella Bronson.

At the May meeting Stirling W.I. donated ten dollars towards the completion of this museum.

According to the report handed out several individual donations were received from Stirling people.

It is so gratifying to see folks from Stirling sharing in such a worthwhile cause.

The entertainment for the evening was given by Miss Ruth Brintnell, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Chas. Brintnell, both of Plainfield. She has given considerable time as well as expense in securing these lovely historic scenes of church and landmarks.

In closing, she changed the scenes to Algoma Park's beauty of deer, lakes, etc.; also local historic scenes and flowers. Quiet music of the "Lord's Prayer" was heard while these last pictures were being shown, which climaxed a very beautiful entertainment.

Mr. Gerald Boyce very capably filled the duties of president.

Mrs. Boyce and her assistants served a delicious lunch at the close. Miss H. Farley, Trenton, moved a gracious vote of thanks to Miss Brintnell for the pictures and the hostess for refreshments.

MISINFORMED BELIEF

That human vision has been declining, fails to consider the FACTS.

The greatly increased modern demands made on the visual mechanism and the nervous system, by the very real increased capacity for efficient performance — without wasted energy and consequent nervous debility.

One cannot lug around Visual Stress and reasonably expect to enjoy a normal enjoyment of living.

Chiefly careful vision-care is responsible!

CONSERVATION NEWS

The 1961 fish planting programme is now in progress. This year approximately sixty lake trout lakes will be stocked from the White Lake Hatchery.

Alternate year stocking in speckled trout lakes will commence this year. This means that most of the lakes under stocking management will receive plantings every other year rather than on an annual basis as in previous years.

The alternate year system of stocking will include lakes all across the district, interspersed with their alternates. By this method no large blocks of lakes will be left out of the picture in any one year.

The system is designed principally to permit anglers to effect a more thorough harvest of hatchery stocked trout before the next stocking is made. It will also give anglers the opportunity of fishing for two year old fish in these lakes.

Village Tax Rate For 1961 Struck At Special Meeting of Council

10.2 Mill Increase on Commercial Property and 11 Mills Residential Property

In special session on Monday night the Village Council struck the current year's tax rate at 89.2 mills on commercial and industrial property and 84 mills on residential property. The latter is made possible through the Provincial Government's unconditional grant to the municipality on a per capita basis. The decision of Council came only after lengthy consideration of the various departments of municipal government.

Reeve C. E. Bateman presided and Councillors B. Jones, R. Philip, B. Anderson and J. Chambers were in attendance.

Increase In Assessment

The total assessment for the Village is $1,085,880, an increase of $33,044 over last year and the total taxes levied will be $92,658.22.

This year there is a decrease of .6 mills in the County levy and an increase of 1.2 mills in the High School Area. The Public School goes up .7 mills and the town rate is 26.2 mills. Sewerage was set at 9.7 mills, an increase of 6.7 mills.

The library, hydrant rentals, Board of Health, debentures and street lighting, which were formerly separate levies, have been included in the town rate under the budget set up by Humpage, Taylor and McDonald, the Village Auditors.

The necessary Bylaw, No. 615, to set the rate was later given its several readings and passed.

Following are the various rates:

County Rate	18.9
High School Area	16.2
Public School	18.2
Town Rate	26.2
Sewerage	9.7
Less Government Grant	5.2
Residential Rate	84.0

Bylaws Given Final Readings

Council went into Committee of the Whole on Bylaws with Reeve Bateman in the chair and Bylaws No. 612 re penalty and interest rates on current taxes and 613, re discharge of any type of firearm within the Village limits, were given their third reading and passed.

Bylaw No. 614, setting a fee of $50 for a sewerage lateral for new properties, where the roadway was gravel, and $75 where the roadway was paved, was given its several readings and passed.

Council adjourned and paid a visit to Church St. where a drainage problem requires solution. On resumption of general business Mr. McDonald, representing the auditors, outlined in detail the budget set up for the Village.

Dr. Bruce Murray, Chairman, and Don Rodgers, of the High School Area Board, were present and a lengthy discussion ensued on the drainage of surface water on Church Street, a condition which was due in part to the grading of the new playground for the High School. It was agreed that the School Board would co-operate with the Village in attempting to rectify the situation. However, no definite commitment was made until the Board meets later this month.

A supplementary Road Bylaw for $14,000, to cover the construction and maintenance of Bridges and Culverts and streets for the balance of the year was also given its several readings and passed.

The final dates for payment of taxes were set as August 15th for the first instalment and December 15th for the second.

Following discussion of a number of minor items Council adjourned to meet July 3rd at 7:30 p.m.

INJURY TO INSULT

"It's obvious that that old skinflint isn't going to pay any attention to the bills I sent him," a dentist told his wife one morning. "I'm going up to his house and collect in person."

An hour later he was back, looking very glum. "I can see by your face that he didn't pay you," said his wife.

"He not only didn't pay me," said the dentist ruefully, "but he bit me with my own teeth."

Brakes Fail Driver Hurt

When the hydraulic brakes on his Bell Telephone truck failed, allowing the vehicle to run across the highway into a steep embankment, Stewart Blake, Foster Ave., Belleville, suffered a broken ankle.

Police said that Mr. Blake, accompanied by David Spence, of Melrose Ave., Belleville, was westbound early Tuesday evening on a Sidney Township road at the top of the Oak Hills when as the truck proceeded down a sharp incline toward No. 14 Highway, the brakes failed.

The June meeting of St. John's Evening Guild met in the Parish Hall with a good attendance.

After the business of the evening all repeated the Guild Prayer, which brought the meeting to a close.

The guest of the evening, Mr. S. McArton, showed some very interesting slides taken at the Centennial in Stirling, Oak Lake and also some northern pictures at moose hunting time.

River Valley W.I. Views Fine Coin Collection

The school kitchen at River Valley was a bower of beauty with bouquets of lilies and tulips, for the June meeting of River Valley Womens Institute. Mrs. Claude Tucker was hostess and 20 ladies were in attendance.

Mrs. Kenneth Myers presided and opened with the Institute Ode and Mary Stewart Collect.

Mrs. George Heasman gave a full report of the recent expenditures which included a share of the district banquet, an amount of $13.30, the W.I. pins and two donations.

It was agreed on motion that the insurance, the special column in the News-Argus, the transportation and delegate's dinner to the district annual, all be paid; also that the ice cream be provided for the children at the July meeting. A get-well card was signed by the group for a member who has been ill in hospital.

The district pictures were displayed at the annual meeting and anyone can place their order now with the secretary and the pictures will be available late in July at a cost of $1 each.

An invitation was received to attend Seymour East W.I. tea and cake sale and a small group planned to attend; also another invitation was received from the Wooler W.I. who are celebrating their 60th anniversary. River Valley will assist with the programme.

The "Pennies for Friendship" collection from November 1960 to May 1961, was $8.75 and this was taken to the district annual meeting by Mrs. Roy Bush.

Mrs. Charles Wilson, delegate to the district annual, gave a most informative report of that day's proceedings. She was graciously thanked for her efforts.

Mrs. Roy Bush, a Past President, extended congratulations to a member, Miss Grace Heasman, who won provincial honours in 4-H Club work, and to another member, Mrs. Percy MacMullen, the newly-elected President of West Hastings District. The latter spoke briefly and outlined a few special items. She said that the immediate past president, Mrs. E. B. Phillips will continue on the Plowing Match billeting committee for the rural area. Forms are available from all branch secretaries and from Mrs. MacMullen.

They should be carefully filled in with post office address, concession lot and telephone number, and mailed promptly to Mr. G. Haggis with 4c postage. The hostesses should have the name clearly marked on the mail box. During the October dates the porch or the outside light should be on. Preference will be given to rural bungalows near main roads.

At the district annual it was decided to apply for the District Workshop on Women's Institute procedures at district level. Mrs. MacMullen invited the workshop to convene at River Valley. The date will be arranged later.

This will cover a wide range of interest and will include offices and duties and public relations. It will be for one whole day and those in attendance will provide their own box lunch. All district officers and some of the branch officers will be especially invited to attend. The hostess group will furnish the meeting place and the beverage. Mrs. MacMullen also told the group that she was having a part on the presentation of the Jayne Gay programme over

CDHQ on Tuesday.

Seven New Members

At this juncture the past president of River Valley, Mrs. Roy Tucker, presented seven Institute pins to new members who joined during her two year term of office. She urged them to wear their pins proudly, keep their dues paid up and attend as many meetings as possible throughout the year. The ladies so honoured were: Mrs. Kenneth Myers, Mrs. Clarence Chard, Mrs. H. Corby, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. E. C. Hay-Ellis, Mrs. Malcolm MacMullen and Miss Grace Heasman.

Fine Programme

Mrs. R. Utman presided over the programme and led in a round of assembly singing which included a humorous song. She read an informative account of all the happenings recently at River Valley. This included news of three new families, two new babies, ball games and so forth. Mrs. Utman introduced Mr. T. W. Beatty, who resides near the Trenton River in the Valley community.

Mr. Beatty has a wonderful hobby of collecting coins and he keeps his valuable items in a safety vault at the bank. He kindly displayed his collection and gave a descriptive account of each. These were passed around for all the members to enjoy. The first coins were minted about 600 B.C.

The first government coin was minted about 1858. The coins were mounted in various interesting styles and included Canadian silver dollars, gold coins, English crowns and half crowns, American Indian heads and various coinage of 96 countries of the world and a large assortment of Canadian coins.

The special items were: "The Widow's Note," Cleopatra of Egypt; a clay tablet from the land of Abraham for a shipment of wine; Captain Kidd, the pirate, and many others, which everyone greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Roy Bush voiced a gracious thank you and made the presentation of a small gift.

Mrs. Roy Irvin read an article on "A selection of flowers." This closed with recipes using lavender and nasturtium blossoms.

Mrs. Roy Bush displayed the West Hastings District scrap book which was also on display at the District Annual. This book contains a large array of clippings and pictures.

Roll call was "A tip for flower bed gardeners." Many items of interest were given and here are a few of the pointers - javex and water will kill weeds in your onion rows; bonemeal is good mixed with dirt; pick onions regularly and have more blooms; plant moth crystals with your radish and avoid worms; use Derris powder and flour for dusting cabbage and ant hills.

Informative Article

Mrs. Roy Tucker, ACWW convenor, passed the "Friendship Pennies" container and she read a most informative article re Greenland from the April "Countrywoman." The ladies of Australia sent pounds of knitting wool in gay colours to Greenland and the women in that cold Arctic land knitted sweaters and sold them to build meeting houses. This was a most satisfactory piece of international co-operation. Greenland got a boost which every struggling society needs. New South Wales in Australia received letters, gifts and post cards and above all, everyone was happy. In 1960 Greenland became a most worthwhile Society of ACWW.

The meeting closed with "The Queen" and Institute Grace, after which the conveners and their assistants served refreshments. This group included Mrs. Claude Tucker, Mrs. Ralph Utman, Mrs. Roy Irvin, Mrs. John Kane and Mrs. E. C. Hay-Ellis, who also contributed to the lunch although unable to be in attendance.

Mrs. Ernest Carr voiced appreciation to all those who had assisted with this successful meeting.

The members were reminded that July 6th was "Children's Day" and each child should bring their hobby for display to the school house.

Owing to the number of classified advertisers who have failed to pay for advertisements, after telephoning them to this office, it may be necessary, in future, to insist on cash with publication. In order not to inconvenience those who take care of their accounts promptly, we are asking the co-operation of all for these small amounts. Question — Could you give me a suggestion for serving fresh strawberries as a party snack?

Answer — Your guests will like cheese-dipped berries. Arrange fresh, clean, ripe strawberries, hulls on, around a bowl of cream cheese dip. To make the dip: Cream 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese. Blend in 4 tablespoons of cream. Add 3 tablespoons salad dressing, 2 teaspoons lemon juice and a few grains of salt. Whip until light and fluffy. Makes about 1½ cups.

Question — Have you any ideas for a very simple strawberry dessert?

Answer — One of our favourites is Fresh strawberry ice cream topped with more fresh strawberries, whole or sliced. The other is a tasty treat called Quick Strawberry Mallow, and here is the Consumer Section's recipe for it.

Quick Strawberry Mallow

1 quart (5 cups) strawberries
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ pound large marshmallows

½ cup icing sugar
½ cup shredded coconut
½ cup whipping cream.

Wash, hull and cut strawberries into quarters. Add lemon juice and stir gently. Place in refrigerator to chill 15 minutes. Using kitchen shears or scissors, cut each marshmallow into eighths, dipping shears into water to prevent sticking. Add icing sugar to cut marshmallows and toss well to separate pieces. Just before serving, combine chilled strawberries, marshmallows and coconut. Fold in whipped cream, then pile lightly in sherbet glasses. Six servings.

NOTE — If using small marshmallows, leave whole. Add the icing sugar to the whipped cream instead of to the marshmallows.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hillis)

COMMITTEE ON BROADCASTING

Some extremely interesting information is being brought to light by the parliamentary committee studying the broadcasting industry.

Rather startling is the fact that CBC's Press and Information Services has grown like the green bay tree. There are 224 persons now employed in that department. In point of fact there are almost three times as many people engaged in public relations and information for CBC than are employed in the department handling the news of the world! As one M.P. put it, "This seems like a tremendous number of bodies distributed through the corporation that are dealing with information services, public relations, programmes etc."

Mr. Fraser, of CBC, countered that in reality only 81 of these bodies are engaged in publicizing the CBC, 60 of them being publicity officers and 31 clerical staff.

One question still unanswered, as far as I can discover, is what the Press and Information Department cost in the past year. The CBC conveniently stopped reporting the cost of this department in its annual report. The last reported figure was well over the million dollar mark. My guess would be that it is nearing the two-million dollar mark annually — and probably costs CBC twice as much annually — and probably costs CBC twice as much as it does to gather and broadcast the daily news!

There will be more information brought to light when the answer is filed to this question by Mr. Smith, of Calgary South. He said, "I should like to get a further breakdown on the cost of programmes as shown on page 24 of the statement of operations. The total given there is $57,890,000 and I assume the major costs would be production charges, fees for actors and so on; but I should like to know if such costs as copyright are included, and whether there is any apportionment for promotion and public relations.

tions and any other particular fees contained in this."

Mr. Ouimet answered, "We could give you exactly what is included under that heading, and perhaps some broad categories of expenditures within that."

It will be interesting, when and if that information is filed, to find out what CBC means by, "And perhaps some broad categories of expenditures within that." The fact is that CBC spends only 17.6 cents out of every dollar on performers and writers. How it can charge up 58.2 cents of each dollar to programmes is a mystery that requires explanation.

Mrs. Wilfred Sine Hostess To W.A.

Mrs. Wilfred Sine was hostess to the ladies of Wellman's United Church Woman's Association on Tuesday, June 6th. There were 20 adults and 3 children in attendance.

The President, Mrs. Jack Dunham, opened the meeting, having everyone sing the theme hymn and repeat the theme prayer. The hymn, "Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life," was sung. Rev. W. G. Fletcher led in prayer.

The worship service, prepared by Mrs. Byron Seeley followed. Mrs. Alfred Atkins read the Scripture, Isaiah 53: 1-6. Mrs. Douglas Clancy gave the commentary on this lesson. Mrs. Jack Dunham and Mrs. John Carlisle gave reports on the Convention of the Woman's Association held recently at Marmora.

The offering was taken by Mrs. Dunham. The ladies approved of a donation towards the sending of the Young People's delegates to Ann Arbor, Mich., for the North American Ecumenical Youth Assembly. It was decided to purchase a rug to cover the platform at the front of the Church. It was also decided to hold a pie social on the Friday night following the anniversary.

Mrs. George Watson favoured with a solo, "How Great Thou Art." Mrs. Omar Dracup gave a reading, "Spring Cleaning." The hymn, "Hushed Was the Evening Hymn," was sung.

Rev. W. G. Fletcher took charge of the appointment of the Provisional Committee for Wellman's United Church Women. Those appointed were Mrs. Omar Dracup, Mrs. Jack Dunham, Mrs. Byron Seeley, Mrs. Clifford Clancy, Mrs. Gerald Russett and Rev. W. G. Fletcher.

Rev. Fletcher closed the meeting with the benediction.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Sine and her assistants and everyone enjoyed a social half hour.

Wellman's

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fleming accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Thrasher to Buffalo and Niagara Falls over the week-end.

Mrs. Livingstone, of Belleville, and Mrs. Runnalls, Frankford, are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fleming and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Graham, Belleville and Mrs. Victor Graham, Eleanor and Freda, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Graham, Harwood.

Mrs. Jack Hutton, Toronto, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott.

Among those attending the 9th National Conference for Men at Keweenaw the past week-end were John Carlisle and Craig Watson of the Rawdon AOTS Men's Club.

Steel Co. of Canada Economist Speaks

"The fact that while very impressive increases in the value of our exports to other countries were taking place, Canadian unemployment rose to the highest level achieved since the 1930's, would seem to indicate that increasing exports is not a panacea for all our social-economic ills," Stuart Armour, Economic Adviser, The Steel Company of Canada, Limited said recently at Vancouver.

Speaking before the Annual General Meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Mr. Armour cited statistics to indicate that while Canadian exports in 1960 to the U.S. decreased by 4.5 per cent, those to Western Europe rose by 31 percent; to the Commonwealth by 18 percent and to the rest of the world by 15 percent.

"One reason why those increased exports did so little to ease our unemployment problem lies in the fact that they were nearly all in products having a relatively low labour content," the Stelco economist stated. "Total farm and fish exports to countries other than the U.S. decreased from $779 million in 1959 to $733 million in 1960, while metal and mineral materials exports to markets other than the U.S. rose from $585 million in 1959 to $733 million in 1960. Of those metal and mineral products exports, primary iron and steel exports to countries other than the U.S. were valued at $94 million in 1960 as compared with $25 million in 1959, an increase of 276 percent. Exports to countries other than the U.S. of what the Bank of Canada calls 'total manufactured and miscellaneous goods' went up 15 percent."

"No one, least of all one who believes so fervently in personal freedom as I do, is entitled to tell Canadians what they should do with the fruits of their production which come to them as salaries and wages," Mr. Armour stated. "But if Canadians wish to spend the fruits of their production on imported finished manufactured goods, then they cannot expect to escape the consequences."

"As the president of our Company said in Vancouver last year, if people want to buy Japanese, they must eventually be content to live Japanese."

HOW MANY HAVE A BANK ACCOUNT?

Chances are they all have! Because nowadays practically everybody is a bank customer. And they go to the bank so often and for so many reasons: to deposit savings, arrange a loan, buy or sell foreign exchange, purchase money orders... In fact, Canadians seem to use banking services more than the people of any other country! The chartered banks, for their part, do their utmost to make each branch a friendly, efficient centre for every kind of banking service.

THE CHARTERED BANKS SERVING YOUR COMMUNITY from $199 million of 10 percent of total exports to those countries in 1959 to $247 million or 10 percent of such exports in 1960.

"Value of forest products exports to countries other than the U.S. rose from $266 million in 1959 to $333 million in 1960."

Mr. Armour pinpointed falling employment in main export categories of the Canadian economy. He said: "Between 1958 and 1960, average monthly employment in Canadian mining fell from 109,208 to 105,840. Average monthly employment in forestry fell from 78,560 in 1958 to 61,350 in 1960; in saw and planing mills from 59,750 to 53,580; and in pulp and paper mills from 65,956 to 65,891."

"It seems partly obvious from the official figures I have just quoted that we shall not reach the government's stated objective of Full Employment by tearing down our labour-intensive manufacturing industries in an effort to increase our raw or semi-finished natural products exports," Mr. Armour said.

"Last year, for the first time in Canadian history, in terms of ingot equivalent Canadian steel exports just about matched our steel imports. But by stepping up our exports so substantially the profits of the Canadian steel industry went down so sharply that had we been just a little more successful as exporters we would probably all have gone broke," Mr. Armour went on. "The poor showing profitwise of our industry last year was not the result of any lack of steelmaking know how; indeed, the Canadian steel industry is noted for the high level of its steelmaking competence. We have been pioneers in a number of directions, and we still show the way to the rest of the world's steel makers in quite a few cases."

"In the decade 1951-60, our industry made capital expenditures in new plant and equipment and in new raw material sources of at least half a billion dollars. Our own Company contributed $295 million to that very impressive total," Mr. Armour said.

The Stelco economist also struck a blow at the heavy import buying habits of Canadians. "Let me reiterate — for it cannot be said too often — only through the employment, the production and the taxes of Canadian manufacturing can we Canadians contribute to support the way of life we have created here and the standard of living upon which it is based," he said.

"No one, least of all one who believes so fervently in personal freedom as I do, is entitled to tell Canadians what they should do with the fruits of their production which come to them as salaries and wages," Mr. Armour stated. "But if Canadians wish to spend the fruits of their production on imported finished manufactured goods, then they cannot expect to escape the consequences."

"As the president of our Company said in Vancouver last year, if people want to buy Japanese, they must eventually be content to live Japanese."

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Weed of the Week

LEAFY SPURGE

Leafy Spurge, introduced from Europe by the pioneers, has become established on many localized areas throughout the province. If this weed is allowed to progress, it will smother out all cultivated crops, says J. D. Curtis of the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. It produces a milky juice which may cause severe skin rashes to certain people. This juice is also poisonous to most livestock, except sheep.

Leafy Spurge is a perennial which spreads by seeds and persistent vertical and horizontal underground root-stalks on which shoot buds are produced. The 2' to 3' high stems frequently form dense clusters which smother out all other vegetation. The flowers are inconspicuous, greenish-yellow, either grouped in flattish clusters at the tips of the stem with a whorl of leaf-like bracts below or scattered along the stem.

Control of Leafy Spurge is very difficult to obtain with either chemicals or cultural methods. A combination of these two practices has to be implemented to get satisfactory control. If there are only small patches in the field, a combination of soil sterilant chemicals such as Trysden, sodium chlorate, Atrazine, plus thorough, systematic cultivation should severely damage and sometimes eradicate this weed. Leafy Spurge on roadsides or in grass pastures can be controlled by an early summer and early fall application for several years of Brush kill at two lbs. of acid in 100 gallons of water per acre.

For further information, see Ontario Department of Agriculture Publication 75, "1961 Chemical Weed Control Guide," available from your County Agricultural Representative.

Timely Tips

Remember to use an acid cleaner, along with the alkaline, if milkstone is building up in your pipeline milker, reminds Art Leggatt, dairy specialist at OAC. How often do you use it? Trial and error is the best method — hardness and alkalinity of water vary from farm to farm. Start with a trial 4-day interval. Also, if you are using a highly alkaline powder cleaner in a hard-water area, this could be the cause of the milkstone. Switch to a liquid bleach, such as chlorine preparation. Follow the manufacturer's recommendations closely.

Have you finished seeding? Clean out your drill before the fertilizer dust corrodes it. It's easy if you do the job before corrosion starts, advises Prof. J. R. Scott of the OAC Engineering Science Department. Clean the fertilizer feed mechanism with a wire brush; a vacuum cleaner or compressed air hose will blow out the rust. Use a brush or pump oil can to coat all moving parts with a mixture of equal parts kerosene and heavy machine oil. Remove the feed spouts, clean them, and apply the oil. Grease all bearings, making sure to force out all dirty grease.

Scientists have done a lot of talking about early cut hay and so have farmers. Now dairyman Edgar Horsey provides some more ammunition. He says that each of his cows dropped 10 cents a day in cream when he changed from early to late hay last winter. He feels early cut hay is one of the best ways to cut the amount of purchased protein needed for rations.

Springbrook W.A.

June 8th was "Guest Day" for members of Springbrook Woman's Association. Many guests, including ladies from Rykstone and Stanwood were present. Members and friends met in the Church basement which was decorated with mauve and white flowers.

Vice-President, Mrs. Ralph Wellman, welcomed everyone and the meeting opened with the theme hymn, theme prayer and W.A. prayer.

Mrs. Delbert Fleming was in charge of the devotional period. Her theme was "The Light of the World." The Scripture was read by Mrs. Murney Mason. The hymn, "In Christ There is No East or West" and "Breathe On Me Breath of God," were sung. Mrs. Fleming closed with prayer.

Roll call, "An interesting place I have visited," was well answered by members and visitors. The members reported making 65 calls and sending 95 cards to sick and shut-ins.

Mrs. Kenneth Thompson and Mrs. Carmen Sine, visiting volunteers, reported making 19 calls. Mrs. Lorne Bailey is this month's visiting volunteer.

Mrs. Gordon Webb thanked everyone for kindness shown her while ill. The sick and visiting committee reported sending 3 cards and 1 plant to sick members.

Mrs. H. Seymour expressed good wishes to all as this was her last meeting before moving from this community.

Mrs. Murney Mason introduced the guest speaker, Miss Elsie Martin, of Stirling, who showed pictures of her trip to United Nations and New York. The pictures were very pretty and interesting and were enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Ellis Jones, Rykstone, played a medley of old favourite hymns on the piano. Mrs. Brunton, Stanwood, gave a reading, "The Better the Deed."

Mr. Harry Seymour closed the meeting with the benediction. Lunch was served and a social time enjoyed.

St. Paul's W.M.S. June Meeting

The June meeting of St. Paul's Women's Missionary Society opened with quiet music played by Mrs. R. Stapley.

As a call to worship Mrs. G. Carlisle read an article called "My Church." This drew attention to the many vital places the church touches our lives; points that we are prone to overlook and some times underestimate. This was followed by prayer.

Mrs. B. St. Pierre conducted the devotional beginning with hymn 604. Mrs. Harold West read the Scripture Lesson from Deut. 6: 1-9. Mrs. St. Pierre followed with prayer. Mrs. Earl Luery gave two readings, "Adventure With God in the Home," by Miss Jane Scott and "Design for a Home," as follows:

Preparation — Invite God to lay the cornerstone. Excavate for foundation by removing all doubt, fear, and selfishness.

Construction — Erect a strong framework of faith, supported by sturdy beams of devotion; lay a stout flooring of sympathetic understanding; lath with generosity; insulate with enthusiasm, and decorate with a sense of humour. Shingle the roof with protective kindness; apply siding composed of high hope and great expectation. Chink all cracks with pleasant memories. Build in permanent fixtures of honesty and integrity.

Provide doorways wide enough for the heavy-hearted and the merry-hearted to enter. Plan plenty of windows to admit sunshine for the joy of living; carefully weatherstrip all openings with appreciation. Install heating apparatus guaranteed to maintain a steady glow of friendly warmth; illuminate with the radiance of smiles, and ventilate with an unlimited supply of patience.

Adorn the walls with cheerful courtesy and pave the hearth with hospitality. Cement the walk with humility, and surround the yard with a fence of loyalty entered through the gate of gratitude.

Furnish throughout with love. Prepare against disaster by fervent prayer for daily guidance. Walk right in — the place is yours. (Author unknown).

A film was enjoyed, followed by an excellent reading by Mrs. Elwood Bateman. "There Is A Lad Here."

Mrs. Carlisle resumed the chair for reports and business.

The Mission Band then entered and put on a skit on "Citizenship." Mrs. H. Waite gave a map talk.

This was followed by lunch and a social hour for which Mrs. David Luery expressed thanks to the committee in charge.

Last year 81 cancer research projects were supported by the Canadian Cancer Society.

Rylstone W.A. Afternoon Tea And Bazaar

On V' dnesday afternoon, June 14th the Woman's Association of Rylstone United Church entertained at an Afternoon Tea and Bazaar at the Church.

Bouquets of spring flowers, peonies, iris, columbine and spirea, formed a flower at the front of the Church, while potted violets were lovely in the windows.

The new carpets in the aisles and choir loft were a splendid tribute to the memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Totten. The weather was ideal for the occasion and a splendid crowd was in attendance from Stanwood, Springbrook, St. Mark's Bonarlaw, Gospel Hall, Zion Church, Fethers' Corners and Campbellford.

Mrs. Wilfred Spencer welcomed the visiting ladies and presided for the opening exercises and programme as follows:

W. A. theme song, "Let the Beauty of Jesus Be Seen In Me;" hymn, "Within Thy Tabernacle Lord;" Scripture Reading, 5th chapter of Matthew, by Mrs. May Stewart; reading, by Mrs. Ernie Rowe, Stanwood, "Experience Needed;" reading, Mrs. E. Irwin, Zion Church, "Little Things;" solo, "God Hath Not Promised," by Mrs. Burton Woodcock, Stirling, with her daughter Barbara as accompanist, as St. Mark's part of the program. Geraldine and Joan McPaul and Doreen Broadworth sang, "How Great Thou Art," with Doreen playing the piano accompaniment. Mrs. Will Rutherford spoke a few words of welcome and came and introduced Harriet Stephens of radio station CJHQ, Belleville, who was the guest speaker.

Harriet thanked Mrs. Rutherford and the hostesses for the invitation and said she would not choose a special subject. She complimented Rylstone on the scenery, the church and hospitality, likening the gathering of different church groups to the League of Nations, which she visited some time ago.

Her informal talk was much enjoyed by all, many of whom listen to her radio programme each day.

Mrs. Spencer extended the thanks of all the ladies to Harriet and the programme closed with the hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

The guests were given an opportunity to visit the bazaar in the lobby and in a short time the bake table and Touch and Take tables were completely sold out.

Lunch was served in the auditorium and after lunch the surplus baking was sold.

Harriet Stephens was presented with a bouquet of peonies, iris and spirea. She paid a splendid tribute to the Rylstone ladies on her Thursday morning radio programme.

St. Paul's W.M.S.

June Meeting

The June meeting of St. Paul's Women's Missionary Society opened with quiet music played by Mrs. R. Stapley.

As a call to worship Mrs. G. Carlisle read an article called "My Church." This drew attention to the many vital places the church touches our lives; points that we are prone to overlook and some times underestimate. This was followed by prayer.

Mrs. B. St. Pierre conducted the devotional beginning with hymn 604. Mrs. Harold West read the Scripture Lesson from Deut. 6: 1-9. Mrs. St. Pierre followed with prayer. Mrs. Earl Luery gave two readings, "Adventure With God in the Home," by Miss Jane Scott and "Design for a Home," as follows:

Preparation — Invite God to lay the cornerstone. Excavate for foundation by removing all doubt, fear, and selfishness.

Construction — Erect a strong framework of faith, supported by sturdy beams of devotion; lay a stout flooring of sympathetic understanding; lath with generosity; insulate with enthusiasm, and decorate with a sense of humour. Shingle the roof with protective kindness; apply siding composed of high hope and great expectation. Chink all cracks with pleasant memories. Build in permanent fixtures of honesty and integrity.

Provide doorways wide enough for the heavy-hearted and the merry-hearted to enter. Plan plenty of windows to admit sunshine for the joy of living; carefully weatherstrip all openings with appreciation. Install heating apparatus guaranteed to maintain a steady glow of friendly warmth; illuminate with the radiance of smiles, and ventilate with an unlimited supply of patience.

Adorn the walls with cheerful courtesy and pave the hearth with hospitality. Cement the walk with humility, and surround the yard with a fence of loyalty entered through the gate of gratitude.

Furnish throughout with love. Prepare against disaster by fervent prayer for daily guidance. Walk right in — the place is yours. (Author unknown).

A film was enjoyed, followed by an excellent reading by Mrs. Elwood Bateman. "There Is A Lad Here."

Mrs. Carlisle resumed the chair for reports and business.

The Mission Band then entered and put on a skit on "Citizenship." Mrs. H. Waite gave a map talk.

This was followed by lunch and a social hour for which Mrs. David Luery expressed thanks to the committee in charge.

Last year 81 cancer research projects were supported by the Canadian Cancer Society.

Rylstone W.A. Afternoon Tea And Bazaar

On V' dnesday afternoon, June 14th the Woman's Association of Rylstone United Church entertained at an Afternoon Tea and Bazaar at the Church.

Bouquets of spring flowers, peonies, iris, columbine and spirea, formed a flower at the front of the Church, while potted violets were lovely in the windows.

The new carpets in the aisles and choir loft were a splendid tribute to the memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Totten. The weather was ideal for the occasion and a splendid crowd was in attendance from Stanwood, Springbrook, St. Mark's Bonarlaw, Gospel Hall, Zion Church, Fethers' Corners and Campbellford.

Mrs. Wilfred Spencer welcomed the visiting ladies and presided for the opening exercises and programme as follows:

W. A. theme song, "Let the Beauty of Jesus Be Seen In Me;" hymn, "Within Thy Tabernacle Lord;" Scripture Reading, 5th chapter of Matthew, by Mrs. May Stewart; reading, by Mrs. Ernie Rowe, Stanwood, "Experience Needed;" reading, Mrs. E. Irwin, Zion Church, "Little Things;" solo, "God Hath Not Promised," by Mrs. Burton Woodcock, Stirling, with her daughter Barbara as accompanist, as St. Mark's part of the program. Geraldine and Joan McPaul and Doreen Broadworth sang, "How Great Thou Art," with Doreen playing the piano accompaniment. Mrs. Will Rutherford spoke a few words of welcome and came and introduced Harriet Stephens of radio station CJHQ, Belleville, who was the guest speaker.

Harriet thanked Mrs. Rutherford and the hostesses for the invitation and said she would not choose a special subject. She complimented Rylstone on the scenery, the church and hospitality, likening the gathering of different church groups to the League of Nations, which she visited some time ago.

Her informal talk was much enjoyed by all, many of whom listen to her radio programme each day.

Mrs. Spencer extended the thanks of all the ladies to Harriet and the programme closed with the hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

The guests were given an opportunity to visit the bazaar in the lobby and in a short time the bake table and Touch and Take tables were completely sold out.

Lunch was served in the auditorium and after lunch the surplus baking was sold.

Harriet Stephens was presented with a bouquet of peonies, iris and spirea. She paid a splendid tribute to the Rylstone ladies on her Thursday morning radio programme.

Ball Game and Social Evening Enjoyed At River Valley

On Saturday evening, June 17th, old school day spirits were revived when two local ball teams of River Valley played an exhibition game on the River Valley school grounds in front of about 150 enthusiastic spectators.

Jas. Parks and Glenn Bush were the captains of the teams. Both teams played a lively game, putting into action the words "to play sport you must be sport."

The score was 18 to 11 in favour of Glens Bush's team, which received the well-painted River Valley champion cup. Harry Brown and John Kane were the umpires.

Pictures Shown

Following the game all were invited in the school house to see a fine collection of pictures shown by Ed and Isobel Heasman, reviewing all the Centennial floats and parade, the 50th anniversary of River Valley W.I. and some of local interest.

The ladies then served a substantial lunch.

All was over in good time and everyone felt it had been a most enjoyable evening and a good place to meet your neighbours, old and new in an informal way. The fans are looking forward to the next game to be held in the near future.

Summer pastures alone are not enough for high milk production, high fat test, maintaining body stores and producing strong healthy calf. Get feed. Tests at the Master Feeds Farm demonstrated that dairy cattle like pellets while on pasture. It is a real advantage to have feed that is readily cleaned up when they come in the barn.

JUNE DAY TREATS

Take some puffs — big, crisp, delicate, hollow puffs — and fill with a scoop of the fresh strawberry ice cream your dairyman is now featuring. You will have a delicious dessert treat for your family.

Take some puffs — tiny, bite-size, hollow puffs — fill with a sweetened mixture of whipped cream and sliced fresh strawberries. You will have dainty Bouchées to make your party fare an outstanding success.

Cream puffs are simple to whip up and they bake quickly. As their texture is crisp and delicate it is best to fill them just before serving.

Here is a popular recipe for Cream Puffs which will make 8 large puffs or 3 dozen small ones. You will notice that the only difference in making large and small puffs is in the baking temperature and time. This recipe was tested by the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Cream Puffs

1 cup butter
1 cup water
1 cup flour
2 eggs

Add butter to water and heat to boiling point. Stir in flour and continue stirring until mixture leaves sides of pan and forms a ball, about 1 minute. Cool. Beat in eggs one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition (beating is important).

Large Puffs — drop from dessert spoon onto a greased cookie sheet. Bake at 400 degs. F. until risen and golden brown, 20 to 30 minutes. Then bake at 350 degs. F. until dry, about 20 minutes. Makes 7 to 8 puffs.

OF MANY THINGS

WANTED —

MORE EMPLOYERS

Unemployment continues to be the number one problem in Canada. There is only one solution to it: more employers — more stores, farms, corporations, factories, mines, oil fields and the rest, able to employ men and women to do the work of the world.

All sorts of schemes are devised to try to help the unemployed. They are not and cannot be satisfactory. Men want to earn their way. Besides, no country can prosper by subsidizing enforced idleness year after year.

Unemployment has a cause. Those who would like to hire men and women for useful occupations cannot afford to do so. Housewives would like to have domestic help; farmers nearly all need or could use a hired hand to good purpose; manufacturers, the largest employers of all, would be reaching out hungrily for more manpower if they could sell their products at present prices.

The problem bothers all political parties. Yet none will face up to the cause — because to enable employers to engage more help, tax rates would have to be reasonable. Political parties have all committed themselves to such heavy social welfare spending that they are afraid to suggest lower tax rates. Most politicians are so afraid to offend labour union leaders that they will not speak the truth about wages getting out of line with production.

I think the present government sees the problem and knows what the solution is. They have to face the voters, though, and they fear that the measures they should take are economically sound but politically unpopular.

In short, what is now required is statesmanship of a high order. Politicians should do what they know to be right. They should have faith that there are enough sensible Canadians who will, in due course, endorse such action. Employers must be given a chance to grow. Today, the government takes about half of all corporate profits of major enterprises. This means there isn't enough money generated to ensure growth or encourage investment.

If tax rates were reduced, unemployment would soon cease to be our number one problem.

THE STORY OF POND INLET

(by Cari Reid)

(1,800 miles true north of Belleville, Ontario, by Mercator projection map calculator).

The long-tusked narwhal was responsible for the settlement of Pond Inlet in the late nineteenth century. The pioneer establishment was a small station belonging to a Dundee whaler whose ships were part of a Scottish fleet which started sweeping the Inlet for whales about 1850. Built at Albert Harbour on the south coast of the inlet, it was the nucleus of the present settlement.

The Inlet is one of the best places on Baffin Island for narwhal, a curious creature of the seas with an ivory tusk spiraling out of the front of its head for six to twelve feet. When whaling was at its height in the Arctic, hundreds came in every spring and were killed by the Eskimos for food and barter. The chance to barter attracted Eskimos for miles around who clamoured about the whalers with cries of "pilletay, pilletay" (give me, give me). Tea, molasses, biscuits, sugar, tobacco, matches, knives, cooking utensils, ammunition, rifles and clothing were offered for the oil and the prized ivory horn of the narwhal. A fiddle once brought in more than $500 worth of whalebone. The difference was made up over a period of years in gifts to the hunter from the lucky whaler. The whalers also shipped out to Britain thousands of fox, seal, polar bear and walrus skins. When whaling came to an end at Pond Inlet, as it did throughout the Arctic in the early twentieth century, fur trade naturally took its place.

It was not whaling but the search for the North West Passage which first put Pond Inlet on the map — as a bay. Captain John Ross, R.N., having made an unsuccessful attempt to find this passage through Baffin Bay, charted the inlet roughly in 1813 as his ships moved back south to England. "To this I gave the name of Pond's Bay in compliment to the Astronomer Royal," he wrote after a hasty look at the 'large glacier' across it. Two years later a more successful expedition on the same mission under Commander W. E. Parry found the 'bay' was an inlet.

During this whole period between 1850 and 1900 Scottish whalers used the inlet as a rendezvous to initiate trade with Eskimos. They even established whaling stations while the trade was in active progress. In 1862 there was an alleged placer gold discovered by the cooper of a Scottish whaler. This was followed by unsuccessful prospecting ventures dating as recent as 1912.

The Pond Inlet Eskimos were called Tununimut. When the whalers came in the natives were living in snowhouses and huts of whalebone and boulders cemented together with sod and clay. They lived principally on meat, caribou meat and Arctic char from the Salmon River, still a good source of this fish. In 1906 these people were told they were Canadians. That year a Government expedition wintered at Pond Inlet in the course of a cruise directed at asserting Canadian sovereignty over the Arctic Islands of the Dominion. This was simply a matter of formally taking over the territory ceded to Canada by the Imperial government in 1880.

The Eskimos saw and heard many new things this year as an extract from the report of Captain J. E. Bernier, expedition commander shows. "We played the graphophone for the natives, they were much amused and amused by this music. They went to Sunday church services on the ship and on the King's birthday took part in a holiday celebration heralded by a royal salute from the ship's guns. On this day, November 9th, the expedition hoisted the Canadian flag at Pond Inlet and took formal possession of Baffin Island. A speech was made to the men and the natives by myself," wrote Bernier, "calling the attention of the natives that they had become Canadians, and that we expected them to live in peace and respect one another, and conform themselves to the laws of the Government of the Dominion of Canada." The captain then held a rifle competition and invited fifteen leading Eskimos of the community aboard for dinner.

In a four year period 1912-16 three trading posts here were open for barter in fur, ivory and blubber. These free traders were from England, Newfoundland and Quebec. However the traders were too small a group to profit so moved out.

Later Government expeditions were to give them still more inventions. Bernier describes the moving pictures they began to view after the First World War on the annual Government Arctic Patrol Ship. This incident was in 1920. "The moving pictures taken the year before were shown on the screen. The comments and exclamations of the Eskimos were interesting. They are much more demonstrative than a civilized audience and talk audibly to each other about the pictures, often in fact addressing remarks to the pictures of friends when thrown on the screen. The outside world to them was a revelation; sky scrapers, trains, crowds, flying machines, horse and cow, etc., held them in amazed silence."

The full weight of Canadian Law was brought home to them in 1923 when three of their men were tried for the murder of a Newfoundland trader, Robert Janes. For this first trial in the north a large and impressive technical staff and complete court were brought in. The proceedings were of great interest to the Eskimos whose response was far from orthodox. "The court took great pains to impress upon their primitive minds a proper notion of the white man's justice," wrote Bernier. "But to the Eskimo a punishment that consisted in a cessation of the hard conditions of his life, a free ride to civilization, no worry, good clothing, food and quarters, and people to wait on him is more of the nature of a translation to heaven... But quite evidently the white man's logic made some impression on them, for they have not systematically killed their white neighbours for the purpose of being coddled for a year or two." Bernier pointed out that they "cannot be forced to do anything they dislike, or put up with anything that is against their ideas of what is right and proper. The Eskimo is his own master, but nevertheless can be jolted along by those who understand his peculiar psychology." Incidentally if Janes had not tried so often to swindle the natives he would have never been murdered. Janes apparently had not understood their psychology. One of the three men was however found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to two years in Stony Mountain Penitentiary, Manitoba. He died of tuberculosis before his term was out.

The present group is a very intelligent race of people who still live on meat from the land and waters. Their livelihood is supported by wage employment from coaling every April, handling cargo from the boat every August. Part of those in the main settlement are hired to haul cargo when planes arrive and five families are employed by the white personnel on a permanent basis.

the first of the present establishments at Pond Inlet, began operations in 1921. It was followed the next year by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and four years after that by Anglican and Roman Catholic missions. In addition to its trade in white and blue fox, the Company mines coal on the Salmon River, a few miles from the settlement. This soft coal is exported to its Baffin Island posts and is the only operation of its kind in the Arctic.

By the early 1950's coal was found to be less reasonable to handle than oil from the south. The present buildings still use coal for it can be mined economically and it gives the natives a wage income for a few weeks every spring.

In 1960 a school and residence for forthcoming teachers were erected by the Department of Northern Affairs of the Federal Government, instigated by a policy of the party in power to Educate the Eskimos. No teacher arrived until March the following spring and a Federal Day School was officially opened on May 12th.

The present settlement serves six active camps stretching in three directions from eight to sixty-five miles away as well as fifty-four people at the site. Until the mid fifties three other settlements were active but one has discontinued due to poor hunting and the other two dissolved because of a religious trend — the followers of the Roman Catholic faith moving to Igloolik and the balance turning Anglican and neighbouring in the larger camps. This lack of parishioners caused the Roman clergymen to move out as well so the mission at present is dormant. They had, when they were active, erected a beautiful crucifix which still stands as a landmark on the range of hills immediately behind the settlement. According to the 1961 census there are two hundred and fifty-three natives and seven white people living in the area. The largest camp has a population of fifty-three (Low Point), 33 at Alfred Point, 17 at Tay Sound, 26 on Blyot Island, 49 at Albert Harbour (8 miles east of the main settlement), and 23 at Guy's Bight.

The present group is a very intelligent race of people who still live on meat from the land and waters. Their livelihood is supported by wage employment from coaling every April, handling cargo from the boat every August. Part of those in the main settlement are hired to haul cargo when planes arrive and five families are employed by the white personnel on a permanent basis.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

STUDY THESE FOUR IDEAS ON MILKING

Are you doing a good milking job? You aren't sure? Maybe you can use these ideas from Professor Fred Hamilton of the Dairy Science Department at the OAC.

First, watch the vacuum gauge on your milk line. If it fails to show a steady non-fluctuating vacuum level at all times, your milking system is probably inadequate or defective.

Next, multiply the number of milk units you use times the number of minutes required to milk the herd; then divide by the number of cows you are milking. The result should be no more than 5 minutes per cow actual milking time; or 5.6 minutes for overall time (includes carrying milk, etc.). Many mastitis herds, says Prof. Hamilton, have averaged milking time per cow exceeding 10 minutes.

For conventional stall barns where the milk must be carried outside the stable, he believes that one man can't handle more than 2 units — even under ideal conditions. It's safer to use 1 unit per man. If a pipeline milker is used in a conventional barn, he believes two units can be used if the man does nothing else.

Similarly, in milking parlours, when the milk is collected in pails or suspended units, one man shouldn't handle more than 2 units. And under ideal walk-through parlour conditions where the milk is carried by pipeline and feeding is semi-automatic, one man can safely handle no more than 3 units, because cows vary so much in milking time. Prof. Hamilton says it's difficult to handle three milkers when certain cows are milked at the same time.

Weed of the Week

CHICORY — WEED OR CROP ???

Chicory, sometimes called wild salsify or blue-sailors, is a serious weed in Ontario. However, in European countries, it is actually grown as a crop, and the blanched leaves used in a salad called "Barbe du Capucin." Chicory leaves are sometimes sold in American markets, although the closely related endive is more popular. Ground and roasted chicory roots are often added to coffee and, according to some authorities, coffee containing chicory is more palatable than the pure product.

Chicory is a very showy weed with branched stems and bright blue flowers. The stems often reach a height of 4 feet, are almost leafless, and arise from a group of dandelion-shaped leaves spread out on the ground. The long tap root of this perennial makes it difficult to control by cutting or mowing.

According to the Field Crops Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, chicory may be controlled by a short crop rotation coupled with timely 2,4-D spraying. In corn or cereal grains, not seeded down to clovers or alfalfa, use 8 ounces of 2,4-D amine acid per acre, when the crop is 6 inches high. In new seedings and mature stands of clovers or alfalfa, apply 24 ounces of 2,4-DB acid per acre. For further information, follow the manufacturer's instructions.

and refer to Ontario Department of Agriculture Publication 75, "1961 Chemical Weed Control Guide," available from the County Agricultural Representative.

Timely Tips

Don't scuffle your corn too much or too deeply cautions Stan Young, crop man at OAC. Tests on corn plots at OAC indicate a drop in yield with each successive cultivation and the deeper the cultivation the lower the yield. Young says that corn roots are close enough to the soil surface that even shallow cultivation will cut them off.

Castrate your pigs while they're on the sow, says G. Norrish, swine researcher at the AOC. He points out that the pigs are easier to hold at this age. Also they show less setback than pigs castrated after weaning.

It's best to spray weeds in fence corners and laneways now while they're growing fast. Apply 1 to 1½ pounds 2,4-D acid in 100 gallons water per acre advises OAC botanist C. M. Switzer. This will control most weeds. If there's a lot of brush use a mixture of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T (brush kill), according to the manufacturer's direction. Look out for susceptible vegetable crops on the other side of the fence: spray drift can kill them.

Now's the time to clean up potato storage and equipment, advises Dick Goodin, of the Ontario Department of Agriculture Crops Branch. Disinfectants include a 2 percent lysol solution and the quaternary ammonium compounds used by dairies. A sack of lime sprinkled on the right places will kill odours. Don't forget to get rid of old sacks, dirt dumps, refuse water, and discard potatoes: they're a good source of potato diseases.

Hints For Homemakers

Cucumbers split or sliced and soaked in beet juice may be used to garnish salads, points out the Food and Nutrition Department, Macdonald Institute, Guelph. Let the cucumbers stand in beet juice for 30 minutes; chill. The cucumber "meat" turns pink but the seeds remain green.

Soft cream cheese can be rolled in finely chopped nuts or parsley for an attractive salad garnish, suggests the Food and Nutrition Department, Macdonald Institute, Guelph. Other ideas for salad garnishes: coloured jelly cubes; pickle slivers; large onion rings, tinted mayonnaise.

Always tear rather than cut lettuce for salads. Cutting makes the leaves limp and bruises them.

It is unnecessary as well as unwise to grease a tube pan when it is to be used for angel cake. Greasing reduces the volume of the cake, say food experts at Macdonald Institute.

It's difficult to get egg whites beaten to their maximum volume. Macdonald Institute's Food and Nutrition Department says: the bowl, beaters

HAROLD ROSCOE LOWERY

Suffering a heart attack while on a visit to Frankford, Harold Roscoe Lowery, of Calgary, Alberta, died suddenly at Frankford on Thursday, June 15th. He was 62.

Born at Frankford, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lowery, he was educated at Frankford but had lived in the Canadian West since the 1930's where he was employed by the Alberta gas pipelines. He was a member of the Baptist Church. He was a Rotarian and a Mason.

He is survived by his wife, the former Mary Teal, and two sons, Boyd, of Calgary, and Teal, of Saskatchewan.

Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. J. B. Ford, of Campbellford; Mrs. Ford Harrison, Belleville, and Mrs. W. A. Kingston, Campbellford. Five brothers and one sister are predeceased.

Mrs. W. L. Munro Hostess To W.M.S.

The regular meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. W. L. Munro with a good attendance.

The President, Mrs. B. Reid, opened with a word of welcome to all and hymn "For the Beauty of the Earth" was sung, followed by prayer from Glad Tidings by Mrs. H. McGee. The Scripture reading from Psalm 27 was read by Mrs. E. Foster.

Roll call was responded to by the word "Beauty." Several items of business were discussed. The members were reminded of the packing of a bale in July; also plans were made to attend the 60th Anniversary of Mt. Pleasant W.M.S. The offering was received and dedicated.

Mrs. L. Dafae presided over the programme. The hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains" was sung, followed by two poems, "The Garden of Memory" and "She Still Has Beauty," by Mrs. S. McIntosh. Mrs. D. Fargey gave a splendid reading, "Hunger For Beauty," prepared by Mrs. K. Ray.

Mrs. D. Rodgers gave a very interesting talk on "Africa the Dark Continent." Several of the ladies assisted, dealing with the different parts, namely government, population, customs, languages, housing, etc.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction and a social hour was spent and lunch served by Mrs. Munro and assistants, Mrs. L. Dafae and Mrs. D. Rodgers.

Mrs. S. McIntosh expressed the thanks of the society for those taking part.

Mount Pleasant W.M.S. Observes 60th Anniversary

(My Mrs. Percy MacMullen)

On Wednesday, June 14th, approximately 180 women gathered at Mount Pleasant United Church on the occasion of the 60th anniversary of the Woman's Missionary Society.

Former members were present from Marmora, Ivanhoe, West Huntingdon, Stirling and other points.

The President, Mrs. John Mulheron and Mrs. Frank Jeffs, welcomed the guests at the door as they arrived, and 12 societies were represented. St. John's, Stirling, Woman's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church; St. Andrew's W.M.S., Stirling, of the Presbyterian Church; St. Paul's United W.M.S., Stirling; River Valley W.M.S.; Springbrook, Salem, Hoard's, Carmel, Wellman's, Bethel, English Line and Belleville Holloway Street United Church.

Mrs. Kenneth Weaver officiated at the console of the organ. Mrs. John Mulheron presided and welcomed the guests. Mrs. Burton Sharpe read the Bible Lesson and Mrs. Herbert Smith gave the meditation based on "Faith, Hope and Love."

Memorial Service

An honour roll in loving memory of all ten charter members and three other past presidents, Mrs. Fred Job-lin, Mrs. John Reid and Mrs. Ross Hoard was placed on a table, which was flanked with tall copper holders with white tapers. Mrs. W. G. Fletcher conducted the memorial and Mrs. H. C. David lit the candles in memory of the charter members and spoke briefly. The memorial service continued for the three deceased presidents and all others who have passed to "Higher Service" during the past 60 years, followed by a period of silence and prayer. Two pots of white chrysanthemums were placed in the pedestal containers by Mrs. Roy Thrasher and Mrs. James Hoard.

A vocal trio, Mrs. Carleton Potts, Mrs. Robert H. Hoard and Mrs. Thomas Series rendered a lovely selection, "Beyond the Sunset."

Greetings

Mrs. Ross Jeffs read greetings from Mrs. George Carlisle, President of the W.M.S. of Belleville Presbytery. Mrs. Grant Hubbell read greetings from Mrs. R. M. McMullan, Sidney, President of West Hastings W.M.S. section. Mrs. Raymond McConnell brought greetings from Mount Pleasant Woman's Association.

Mrs. T. F. Townsend, Belleville, sang "O Leave it with Him," with Mrs. El. Hubbs as accompanist.

Historical Sketch

In a brief period of twenty minutes, Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave highlights of the 60 years of missionary endeavour. The motto has always been, "The World for Christ." An article written by Mrs. Allan Bailey in 1938 outlined the circuit W.M.S. organization in 1897 and then in 1901 Mount Pleasant organized an auxiliary of their own with ten members as follows: President, Mrs. Jas. Williams; Secretary, Mrs. Frank Potts; Treasurer, Mrs. Frank Williams and other members Mrs. Daniel Johnson, Mrs. Nancy McConnell, Mrs. Reuben Hoard, Mrs. Allan Bailey, Miss Phronia McDonald, Mrs. Will Johnson and her daughter, Miss Lottie Johnson.

In 1911 a Mission Circle was organized with Mrs. Robert Pounder as leader and nine girls. This group disbanded in 1917 and there have been 18 presidents, five of whom are deceased:

1901-1911, Mrs. James Williams (deceased); 1911-1916, Mrs. Allan Bailey (deceased); 1916-1921, Mrs. John Reid (deceased); 1922-1923, Mrs. Thomas McKeown; and from 1924-1925, Mrs. John Holmes.

The 20th anniversary was held at the parsonage and a Mission Band was organized in 1924 with Mrs. Fred Joblin as leader.

From 1926-28 Mrs. Geo. Weaver was president of the W.M.S. In 1928 the treasurer remitted $500 to the Presbyterian treasurer and of that amount the Mission Band contributed $25. The presidents for the following years were: Mrs. Ross Hoard, 1929;

Mrs. Thomas McKeown, 1930; Mrs. F. Joblin, 1931-32 (deceased); Mrs. Ross Hoard 1933-34; Mrs. Arthur Phillips, 1935.

Save the Coppers Fund

The 30th anniversary was held and Mrs. James Williams gave the message. A golden wedding anniversary was sponsored for Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bailey and a quilting party in honour of Mrs. Joblin before her departure from the circuit.

From 1936-1942, Mrs. Percy MacMullen was president and a series of birthday parties was held for the elderly ladies and Mrs. Rueben Hoard was the first member so honoured. An "at home" was held in 1940 on the lawn of Mrs. Percy Hubble and the 40th anniversary at the church in 1941.

In January of 1942 a Baby Band was organized with Miss Eileen MacMullen as leader and Mrs. Cyrus Summers assistant.

Mrs. T. F. Townsend was president from 1943 to June of 1946, during which time Red Cross work was begun. The last half of 1946 was in charge of Mrs. Percy MacMullen and the 45th anniversary was held.

In 1947 Mrs. Bert Jeffs was president and from 1948-49 Mrs. John Holmes.

During 1950 Mrs. Roy Thrasher was president and the silver jubilee was held in commemoration of 25

GREEN GROWS
THE SPINACH

The tender and crumpled, glossy dark green leaves of spinach have a specially nice taste this time of year when they come straight from local gardens to your dinner plate or salad bowl.

Spinach is a good warm day vegetable because it takes a cool preparation and almost no time at all to cook. For 6 servings buy 1½ pounds or 2 bags of fresh spinach. Wash in plenty of cold water, lifting the leaves out of the water and breaking off any large stalks. No more water is needed for cooking than that which clings to the leaves after washing. Sprinkle salt over spinach, cover pot tightly and when steam escapes from under the cover, time it for 3 to 5 minutes. Spinach should be thoroughly drained before serving. To help do this, cut through the leaves with a sharp knife before draining.

Although fresh spinach needs only butter for seasoning, it's fun to be even a little bit adventurous. The Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, suggests seasoning this leafy green vegetable according to the kind of meat it accompanies on the dinner plate. For example, spinach served with chicken is especially nice seasoned with sautéed blanched slivered almonds. Sour cream seasoned to taste with salt, pepper and nutmeg and spooned over hot drained spinach makes it a delicious vegetable for serving with meat; while lamb couples up to a spinach which has had ½ teaspoon rosemary sprinkled over it before cooking.

Some while back I wrote a column in which I said that the meanest of means tests is the one you fill out each year for the income tax people — because it is a test to find out how much will be taken from you, not how much will be given to you.

An editor wrote me about it.

"I'm going to print your column about the means test," he wrote, "but you can be sure a bunch of starry-eyed cranks will scream that you are a callous character. You are as right as rain, though, and if the country doesn't start to give generously to those who really do need it and quit handing out money to those who ought to be able to pay their own way, there are going to be mighty bad times before we are through. In my opinion, there are very few excuses for a man who can't make enough in this town to pay his own way without climbing on other backs. Yet there are a few, through no fault of their own, desperately need more help. Shotgun-type welfare payments ought to be stopped and the welfare money should be spent only where there is honest need."

He published the column, and so far there hasn't been too much objection to it. It seems to me that there are many Canadians who see clearly enough that welfare costs are getting out of hand and to whom promises of more and more welfare are no longer attractive.

I noted the other day that a professor, educated in Toronto, has been saying that "In an opulent society such as ours, the individual should be responsible for his own upkeep during the early stages of unemployment or sickness." That seems to me to be just a smoother way of expressing what I was trying to say. In most small emergencies, men can look after themselves and their families; it is when disaster strikes that help is needed, and then it should be prompt and generous.

This is a serious matter, because our social costs find their way into the price structure of everything we buy or sell. Prices get higher while profits get lower. Business begins to drag its feet, and unemployment mounts. Money for social service dries up. In the long haul, it is better to limit the load now than to continue until all the sources of revenue have disappeared.

TO THOSE IN NEED

man was president from 1956-57. Mrs. Herbert Smith was president in 1958-59.

For the present time, 1960-61, Mrs. John Mulheron is president. During this time the study book has been completed on "Africa Disturbed;" a scrap book was completed and donated to the Hastings County Home. Mr. H. Putman gave his travelogue last November.

A few of the 1961 members have belonged to this organization for at least 40 years. There are six life members who are: Mrs. Frank Jeffs, Mrs. John Holmes, Mrs. Geo. Weaver, Mrs. Percy MacMullen, Mrs. W. G. Fletcher and Mrs. Will Potts. It was regretted that Mrs. Potts was unable to be present.

The presidents from elsewhere in attendance were: Mrs. Thomas McKeown, Springbrook; Mrs. T. F. Townsend, Belleville; Mrs. Arthur Phillips, Cannifton; and Mrs. Bert Jeffs, Prince Albert. The first Baby Band leader also attended, Mrs. Sid Demorest, Marmora. Two of the Mission Circle girls were present, Miss Lenora Williams and the historian. The offering was gathered by Mrs. Oscar Merrick, Mrs. Stanley Williams and Mrs. Ralph Jeffs and dedicated by the president.

Guest Speaker
Mrs. Percy MacMullen, Literature Secretary of Belleville Presbyterian W.M.S., introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Clarence Holmes, Belleville. She based her message on Bible verses found in Exodus and Psalms on the theme, "This Day Shall Be Unto You for a Memorial."

Mrs. Garth Joslin voiced thanks for the inspirational message and presented the speaker with a gift of remembrance.

The newly decorated church hall was the setting for the social hour. A white covered guest book was at the main door for all the guests to sign as a memento of this occasion.

The refreshments were convened by Mrs. Burton Sharpe and Mrs. Irvin Potts.

The cake cutting ceremony was in charge of Mrs. George Weaver and Mrs. John Holmes while Mrs. W. G. Fletcher and Mrs. Percy MacMullen presided at the silver tea services.

Following the Fellowship half hour, Mrs. P. J. Hommersen, of Stirling, voiced a gracious thank you to the hostess group.

The programme conveners were Mrs. Garth Joslin and Mrs. Donald Knight. The souvenir programmes were prepared by the pastor.

The memorial flowers were presented in loving memory of Mrs. Allan Bailey by her granddaughter, Mrs. Harry Benson, Ivanhoe, and in memory of Mrs. Ross Hoard by her husband. Flowers were later taken to Mr. and Mrs. Will Potts and Mrs. Donald Johnson who are in ill health.

The anniversary cake was donated in loving memory of Mrs. Frank Smith by Mrs. Herbert Smith. The services were given in loving memory of Mrs. Daniel Johnson by Mrs. Elwood Johnson and Mrs. Donald Johnson.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Weed of the Week

CRABGRASS

"Lawn burn" may not be recognized by the medical profession, but the Field Crops Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, confidently forecasts an epidemic this year. It starts as a burning sensation in the stomach and ends in violent sweating from a purple coloured forehead. These symptoms are accompanied by a low moan which rapidly becomes a glibbering shriek.

People most susceptible to this condition are those who have spent between $50.00 and $500.00 per acre on topsoil, fertilizer, seed and blood, sweat, and tears in an attempt to start a new lawn and see crabgrass growing instead.

Crabgrass is an annual weed which can take over a new lawn faster than junior can wreck a new toy. Crabgrass seedlings have a purplish tinge, and rapidly send out branches along the ground. These root at the joints and form a mat that smothers out everything except other crabgrass seedlings.

Control measures include spraying with crabgrass killers, raking seed heads up and slipping them off close to the ground and following directions given in the 1961 Guide to Chemical Weed Control. Fertilizing heavily and letting the grass grow taller (set the mower as high as it will go) will help in smothering out crabgrass. If you do not mind a reputation for laziness, this method helps a lot.

The Secretary, Mrs. Clarence Fitchett, read the minutes and gave the roll call with each member paying their W.A. fees. The July meeting will be held at Eggleton Church on the afternoon of the 13th. This will be the annual union meeting with W.M.S., W.A., Mission Band and Baby Band. Mrs. Forde Stapley offered to assist the Baby Band leader, Mrs. Murray Martin, with preparing the programme. The W.M.S. and W.A. members are to bring lunch. All mothers and Baby Band members are especially invited to attend this meeting.

The W.A. Treasurer, Mrs. Warren Harlow, gave a report for the first half of the year. The Supply Secretary, Mrs. Forde Stapley, reported that the quilt for Home Mission Allocation had been sent.

Mrs. Ethel Danford, of Belleville, sent out a quilt top she had pieced, also lining, etc. Eggleton W.A. will set a date later on to quilt this for her.

Mr. Dyson spoke at some length on the New Organization — United Church Women — pointing out some of the changes that would be made.

All joined in singing the hymn, "Unto the Hills Around Do I Lift Up My Longing Eyes." The Scripture Lesson, St. John 17: 1-23, was read by Mrs. Carl Bridges, followed by a splendid meditation on the lesson by Mrs. Warren Harlow. The pastor, Mr. Dyson, led in prayer.

The hymn, "Come Let Us Sing of a Wonderful Love," was sung, after which a lovely poem, "Alone with God," was read by Mrs. Harold Chambers.

All enjoyed the duet, "Sweet Hour of Prayer," sung by Mr. and Mrs. G. Dyson, with Mrs. Bruce Stapley playing the accompaniment. A poem, "If I Had Prayed," was given by Mrs. K. Johnson and a reading, "God's Work For You," was read by Mrs. B. Stapley. Another reading, "The Golden Days," was given by Mrs. S. Danford.

Mrs. McMullen thanked the hostess, programme convener and all who assisted on the programme.

Mrs. Dyson read part of an interesting letter she had received from her daughter who is in England.

After singing "Pass Me Not, O Gentle Saviour," the President dismissed the meeting with prayer.

A splendid report of the afternoon and evening sessions of Belleville W.A. Presbytery was given by Mrs. H. Elliott and Mrs. D. Heath.

Mrs. Baron had charge of the programme, which consisted of a solo by Mrs. W. G. Feilcher; reading, by Mrs. E. McKeown, "Courage For Puzzling Days;" piano solo, by Mrs. H. Elliott. Mrs. F. Reid conducted a quiz.

Stirling Public School Visits Ottawa

At 7 a.m. on the morning of Thursday, June 22nd, a Wannamaker bus pulled up to the Stirling Public School. Fifty-one pupils from Grade 7 and 8 and four supervisors, Mrs. Heath, Mrs. Lueray, Mrs. Mouck and Mr. Scott boarded it.

We crossed the Ottawa River and made a scenic tour of Hull, Quebec. We then returned to Ottawa and arrived at the Parliament Buildings at 10:50 a.m.

The Parliament Buildings proved to be the main part of the trip. Mr. Rod Webb, M.P., provided the schedule for the tour. In the House of Commons we had excellent seats and listened to parliamentary discussion which proved very interesting. We then took the elevators and went up into the Peace Tower, where we beheld the scenery with awe. The Parliamentary Library came next. It is a huge library containing over half a million books. We finished our tour of the Parliament Buildings with visits to the Red Room or Senate and Art Galleries.

After eating our lunch on the National Museum grounds, we made a brief tour through the building.

Our next stop was at the Royal Canadian Mint where we were taken on a guided tour. The minting stages that our Canadian coins go through was most interesting. Too, the strict security precautions that are taken with visitors as well as employees, amazed us all.

Later we toured the Dominion Archives Building and then crossed the grounds to the War Museum. In both these places we viewed many historical features.

Last, but not least, we drove to the Experimental Farms and wandered through the beautiful gardens.

At approximately 11:00 p.m. we arrived back at the Stirling Public School. Everyone felt that this visit to Canada's Capital had been most enjoyable and would remain in our minds as a truly memorable experience.

The Ontario Safety League suggests a self-check to make sure you drive well in traffic. How many times did someone cut in ahead of you from another lane, last time you drove through the city? If you drive carefully, several other cars will cut in ahead of you every hour. If no-one squeezes in ahead of you, it means you consistently drive dangerously close to the car you are following.
